This laudable Charity has, within the Course of nine Years, exhibited such numerous Instances of Benefit to the sick and distressed Poor, that its Usefulness is become generally confessed and approved; and as its Success has hitherto exceeded all rational Expectation, so it is hoped, by a Continuance of the same Care and Attention in an impartial Application of the generous Contributions, which have been bestowed to promote and support it, and by the Assistance of future Benefactions, its Healing Influence (under the Divine Blessing) may be rendered still more extensive, and the Managers enabled to surmount the Difficulties, to which the present State of the Stock now necessarily subjects them; being prevented enlarging the Conveniencies for the Accommodation of a greater Number of Patients, and of compleating many Parts of the Building, which yet remain unfinished.

For the more full Satisfaction of the Contributors, and Information of those who may be yet Strangers to the Institution, there is now printing, and will be shortly ready to be distributed, "A Continuation of the Account of the Pennsylvania Hospital, from the First of May, 1754, to the Fifth of May, 1761; with an alphabetical List of the Contributors, and of the Legacies which have been bequeathed, for Promotion and Support thereof, from its first Rise to the 16th of last Month."

It being impracticable to apply personally to every one, who may be kindly disposed to demonstrate their Benevolence to this Charity, where such may be omitted, it is hoped they will not attribute it to a designed Neglect, which they may be assured will not be the Case; they are requested to send their intended Donations to the Treasurer, or any one of the Managers. And as Enquiries have been lately made by some for the Form of leaving Bequests in their Wills, the following is recommended, viz.

"I give and bequeath to the Contributors to the Pennsylvania Hospital, the Sum of to be paid to their Treasurer for the Time being; and applied towards carrying on the charitable Design of the said Hospital."

They who visit the House are likewise desired to remember the Charity-Box, affixed in the Hall.

Old Linen being much used, and daily wanted for Bandages, Lint, &c. such Presents sent to the Matron will be thankfully received.

"As Blossoms and Flowers are strew'd upon Earth, by the Hand of Spring; as the Kindness of Summer produceth in Perfection the Bounties of Harvest; so the Smiles of Charity shed Blessings on the Children of Misfortune.

"He who pitieth another, recommendeth himself; but he who is without Compassion, deserveth it not.

"The Butcher relenteth not at the Bleating of the Lamb; neither is the Heart of the Cruel moved with Distress.

"But the Tears of the Compassionate are sweeter than Dew-drops falling from Roses on the Bosom of the Spring.

"Shut not thine Ear therefore against the Cries of the Poor; neither harden thy Heart against the Calamities of the Distressed.

"When thou seest the pale trembling Wanderer of the Street, shivering with Cold, and destitute of a Place to rest his painful Limbs; let Bounty open thine Heart, let the Wings of Charity shelter him from Death, that thine own Soul may live.

"Whilst the poor Man groaneth on the Bed of Sickness, whilst the Unfortunate languish, or the hoary Head of Age lifts up a feeble Eye to thee for Pity, O how canst thou riot in superfluous Enjoyments, regardless of their Wants, unfeeling of their Woes?"

BY THE HONOURABLE

JAMES HAMILTON, Esq;

Lieutenant-Governor and Commander in Chief of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent and Sussex, upon Delaware.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS Information hath been made to me, That on or about the Twenty-fourth Day of June last, a certain Indian Man, called THOMAS HICKMAN, of the Delaware Tribe, was found grievously wounded by the Shot of a Rifle or Fusee, near a Deerlick, in the Valley of Tuscarora, in the County of Cumberland, of which said Wound he shortly after died. And whereas it is supposed that the said Fact was wilfully perpetrated by some white Person or Persons, hitherto unknown, with Intent to kill and murder the said Thomas Hickman, notwithstanding his well known constant Friendship and Attachment to the English, during the whole Course of the War, which greatly heightens and aggravates the Horror of the Deed. And whereas it is at all Times, but more especially in the present Situation of our Affairs with the Indian Nations, of the utmost Consequence to the Peace of the Province, not only to avoid giving them any just Cause of Complaint, but to make them the best Reparation in our Power for any Injuries they may have sustained, either by the Folly or Wickedness of any of our Inhabitants; I HAVE THEREFORE thought fit to issue this Proclamation, and do hereby strictly charge and enjoin all Judges, Justices, Sheriffs, Officers civil and military, and all other His Majesty's Liege Subjects within this Province, to make diligent Search and Enquiry after the Authors, Perpetrators, Abettors or Accomplices of the said Murder, hereby promising the Reward of ONE HUNDRED POUNDS of each and every Perſon who ſhall be apprehended and convicted thereof, or of being in anywiſe aiding, aſſiſting or abetting the ſame, to be paid immediately after Conviction to the Perſon or Perſons who ſhall diſcover, apprehend and ſecure the ſaid Criminals, or any of them. AND I do hereby further ſtrictly enjoin and require all His Majeſty's Subjects within this Government, to avoid all Quarrels and Contentions with any Indians, who either do reſide in, or are paſſing through, this Province; and earneſtly recommend it as a Meaſure that may be highly conducive to the Peace and Safety thereof, to treat them with Civility and brotherly Kindneſs.

GIVEN under my Hand, and the Great Seal of the ſaid Province, at Philadelphia, this Twenty-eighth Day of July, Anno Domini One Thouſand Seven Hundred and Sixty-one, and in the Firſt Year of His Majeſty's Reign.

JAMES HAMILTON.

By his Honour's Command,
RICHARD PETERS, Secr.

GOD Save the KING.

CHARLES-TOWN, in South-Carolina, July 15.

Col. GRANT's head quarters, near Fort Prince George, Friday, July 10, 1761.

"On June 7th, we marched from Fort Prince George, near 2600 men ſtrong, including packhorſemen, who were moſtly all armed, with a line of pack-horſes, &c. amounting to upwards of 700, and with upwards of 400 head of cattle. The 8th and 9th, we made forced marches, to get thro' two dangerous paſſes, which was done without a ſhot being fired at us. The 10th, early in the morning, we moved from our encampment near Eſtatoe old town; and before the rear had got entirely off the ground, our cattle-guard was fired upon by a few Indians, who kept at a conſiderable diſtance, and did no hurt. Finding Indians round us was no ſurprize to any one perſon in the line; for the whole were convinced that we ſhould have an action that day: Indeed the corps were ordered to load that morning for the firſt time, and it ſeemed as if the colonel had fixed that for the day of action. About half an hour after eight, our Indians diſcovered a body of the enemy on our right flank; a good many ſhots were exchanged, and the Cherokees, tho' numerous, gave way. An enemy Indian was killed and ſcalped, ours ſuſtained no loſs at that time. The Indian hoop went directly after from front to rear of the line on both flanks, and then the firing, which laſted till 12 o'clock, became a little more ſerious. The light infantry who were in front, were fired at from a great diſtance, and no hurt done to any of that corps, but one private man, who was ſlightly wounded. The ſucceeding corps ſuffered more, and the heavieſt fire from the enemy at laſt ſeemed to fall upon the rear. The troops behaved with great ſpirit and coolneſs, and by the heavy fire of their platoons, diſlodged the enemy from the advantageous poſts which they had taken poſſeſſion of, and that too with very conſiderable loſs, as appears from the declarations of the ſeveral priſoners ſince taken by us; and by what appears ſtill a ſtronger proof, their never attempting to give us any oppoſition ſince. Popping ſhots continued till two o'clock, when the enemy thought proper to retire. The ground they had taken poſſeſſion of, was really well choſen, and inacceſſible to us, who had an incumbered line of march, of more than two miles in length. Conſidering the duration of the action, our loſs is very inconſiderable; enſign John Monroe, of the 22d, who was dangerouſly wounded laſt year, with ten more of the line, were killed; enſign Knight, of the Royal, lieutenant Barber, and enſign Campbell, of colonel Burton's, and lieutenant Terry, of the provincials, with 48 of the line, are wounded: Some horſes were killed, and we were obliged to throw ſome bags of flour into the river, for want of horſes to carry it up, as the packhorſemen could hardly be forced back for their loads, many of which they threw off, to facilitate their eſcape, for they were a little frightened. A little after three o'clock our wounded were dreſſed, and carriages provided for them, and the whole line marched on to Etchoey that night; 1000 men were left under colonel Middleton's command, to take care of the wounded, and our proviſions, while colonel Grant, with the reſt, marched on at 10 that night to Noockaſee and Taſſee; he was in hopes of ſurprizing ſome of the Indians in theſe towns, but they were found entirely abandoned: Next day the whole joined at Noockaſee, and ſince that time we have walked thro' every town in the Middle Settlements, as well as the outſide towns, which lie on a different branch of the Tennaſee. While colonel Grant proceeded on the evening of the 25th to deſtroy theſe outſide Towns, colonel Laurens was left with about 1000 men, to take care of the wounded, the proviſions, and the camp. In going to Stickoey we found it to be perhaps the moſt difficult road ever troops paſſed over. Heaven has bleſt us with the greateſt ſucceſs on every occaſion; we have finiſhed our buſineſs as compleatly as the moſt ſanguine of us could have wiſhed; all their towns, amounting to 15 in number, beſides many little villages, and ſcattered houſes, have been burnt; upwards of 1400 acres of corn, according to a moderate computation, entirely deſtroyed; and near 5000 Cherokees, including men, women and children, driven to the mountains to ſtarve; their only ſubſiſtance, for ſome time paſt, being horſe-fleſh: Not the ſmalleſt veſtige of corn was found any where but at a town called Teſſantee, where our Indians got about 20 buſhels. The officers and men are exceſſively fatigued; no body of troops was ever known to ſtay ſo long in an Indian country before; the dread of his Majeſty's arms has been ſhewn to advantage, by the effects on this occaſion; for the Cherokees have given up, at a ſmall expence, one of the fineſt countries in the world; our wounded are doing well; of theſe unlucky people only three private have died."

Extract of a Letter from an Officer in Colonel Middleton's Regiment, dated July 10, 1761.

"The defiles and paſſes along War-woman's Creek, which we paſſed the 8th of June, in our way to the Middle-Settlements, are horrid, and ſuch, had the enemy diſputed our paſſage, as would have ſorely grieved us. On one ſide high and rocky mountains hanging over our heads, the path rocky, and no wider than for a ſingle packhorſe; on the other ſide a great and deep precipice, at the bottom of which is the creek. The path for ſeveral miles is little better.

"On the 9th, we found on a tree, one of the Cherokee war-faces; it was 9 Indians, running with their guns and Tomahawks, and a white man priſoner, all done in red: A ſure ſign of war, which we were afterwards told by the priſoners was made by nine Creek Indians, that were in the action of the 10th, where the place of attack was very advantageous: It was on the river Cowhowee, eight miles from Etchoey.------Captain Kennedy, with the Indian corps of about 140 or 50, firſt diſcovered and attacked the Cherokees, on a high hill on our right, where they lay to attack us. Under this hill the line was obliged to paſs for a conſiderable way. Cloſe on our left was the river, from the banks and ſavannah on the oppoſite ſide they fired on us very ſmartly. The line continued its march on the road, received the fire, and ſent out parties up the hill on our right to beat them off, which was done after ſome diſpute. The line faced to the left, and gave the enemy on that ſide their whole fire, which diſperſed and drove them up to the mountains, and they were no more troubleſome from that quarter: They ſeemed to deſign a hard puſh at our cattle and flour in the rear. After we had marched about two miles through this defile, and through the enemy's fire, we got into an open ſavannah. The hills on our left, out of gun ſhot, we ſent out parties to take poſſeſſion of. The picquet and cattle-guard of rangers had not as yet got through the defiles and fire; Colonel Middleton received orders from Colonel Grant, to ſend back ſome parties to ſupport them; he accordingly ſent two ſubalterns, with 25 private each, of the provincials; preſently Captain Roberts, with 60 provincials, and 40 of the battalion corps; and immediately after one ſubaltern, with 25 private of the provincials. This relief came very ſeaſonably, the rear being hardly preſſed, ſeveral baggage horſes ſhot, bags of flour lying on the ground, and many proviſion horſes ſtanding without their leaders, who had run away into the front; all theſe would probably have been loſt, the whole force of the enemy being collected there; but Captain Roberts and the others beat off the Indians, and put the flour bags on rangers horſes, except a few that were thrown into the river, that they had not horſes to carry off: They alſo ſunk our killed, ſix in number, to prevent the Indians getting their ſcalps: Such of the officers baggage as could not be brought off, was likewiſe ſunk. During the action, ſome perſon among the Cherokees called out in French to Captain Kennedy, to come forward. We did not get to Etchoey with our wounded till midnight. We were firſt fired upon between ſeven and eight in the morning, and the enemy did not leave off till two in the afternoon: The firing was very heavy between eight and nine, and did not abate till between eleven and twelve. The priſoners all agree, that a great number of the Cherokees were killed in the action, many of them headmen. They did not get one ſcalp from us; moſt of the bodies that were ſunk in the river were ſeen many days afterwards, and not ſcalped. The priſoners which we took at different times ſay, That the Mortar and 100 Creeks are in the Upper Towns; that the Young-Warrior of Eſtatoe was wounded in the action; and that the Little-Carpenter, with ſome headmen of the Upper-Towns, was coming to meet Colonel Grant, but hearing of the action, they all returned to their homes. The number of the enemy was not leſs than a thouſand; the priſoners ſay, all the people of the Lower-Towns, Middle-Settlements and Valley, were there, but none of the Upper-Towns.

"From the 11th of June, we were employed, without being moleſted, in burning the Indian towns, deſtroying their corn, beans, &c. to a great amount. Col. Grant always ſent the Indian corps, commanded by Captain Kennedy, forward to ſurprize and take any priſoners that might be in the towns, as well as to view the path, and ſcout before the army.

"On the 16th, in our paſſage through Keeowee, SILVERHEELS, the Mohawk, who ſeldom ſpeaks, got on the top of the Round-Houſe, and, with a loud voice, three times ſummoned all the Cherokees, from all their towns and mountains, to come and hear the news he had to tell them from the north; but they not appearing, he finiſhed by telling them, ſince they would not come and hear him, he muſt burn and deſtroy their towns. We had frequently very heavy rains, and many of the men were unable to walk, by the exceſſive fatigue. During the whole march, we found no meat in the Indian houſes but horſe beef; their corn-mortars ſeemed to have had no corn beat in them for ſome time: They appear to have ſubſiſted chiefly on horſe fleſh, and for ſome little time paſt, on the ſtalks of young corn boiled. They have planted a prodigious crop of corn this year, in the ſettlements we ſaw; ſome of the fields are new, and on the ſides and tops of the hills, ſaid to be thoſe of the Lower-Towns people, while the former inhabitants reſerve for themſelves the poſſeſſion of the large and fertile vallies.

"Yeſterday, July 9th, we arrived at this river [Keeowee] about eleven in the forenoon, but could not paſs on account of the rains till ſun-ſet, and got to our old encampment, where we now remain, having been 33 days on very ſevere ſervice; the troops, during the whole time, having nothing better than bowers of boughs to ſhelter them, much bad weather, and the whole army, upwards of 20 days, on ſhort allowance of flour: We brought in above 300 wounded, ſick, and lame, one half ſcarcely able to march, their feet being mangled with the rocks, bryars, &c. but we are returned, after deſtroying the whole towns, plantations, &c. of the Middle-Settlements, and turned at leaſt four thouſand miſchievous and perfidious animals to ſuffer miſerably in the mountains. We have advanced our frontier at leaſt 70 miles towards the enemy, by which means Fort Prince-George becomes a ſafe poſt; our Back-Settlements eaſily defended by a ſmall number of men, and not ſo readily hurt as formerly; and all this done at ſo cheap a rate as muſt reflect great honour on the commander for his ſteadineſs, vigilance, and unwearied care during the whole buſineſs: He took every method to hurt the enemy, without too much expoſing the troops in his charge. The whole loſs to do this ſervice is ten killed, not 50 wounded, a few horſes, and about fifty bags of flour."

[Some other Carolina Articles (but not very material) for Want of Room, we are obliged to defer till next Week.]

By Captain Morris, arrived at New-York from Liverpool, we have the following Advices, viz.

Hague, May 19. They write from Saxony, that the King of Pruſſia was arrived with his army upon the frontiers of Sileſia, on the 10th inſtant, without any impediment or moleſtation from the enemy, and that general Laſcy followed his Majeſty at a diſtance. Prince Henry continued in his camp at Schlettau and Kutzenhauſen, and marſhal Daun in his at Plauen: That upon general Hullen's having quitted Freyberg, and the Auſtrians taking poſſeſſion of it, colonel Kleiſt had been detached to diſlodge them from thence; upon whoſe approach they retreated, and repaſſed the Moldau with precipitation. Colonel Kleiſt brought back to the camp 84 priſoners, and above 100 Horſes. [London Gazette.]

Hambourg, May 21. We are in a very untoward ſituation. If we favour one ſide, we are threatened by the other; and the moſt ſteady and uniform conduct cannot ſecure us from threats of reſentment by one or other of the Powers engaged in the war; and what adds to our misfortune, is, that we know not where it will end. We are indeed every day flattered with hopes of Peace, but fear thoſe hopes will deceive us: Every appearance around us carries the Face of war; and it is probable that this campaign will be the moſt bloody one we have yet ſeen. The powers at war have indeed appointed a congreſs to be held; all we know, is, that ſuch propoſals have actually been made and accepted; but the accounts to be ſettled are of ſo intricate a nature, that it will be difficult to adjuſt them.

Marſhal Broglio and the Prince de Soubiſe have received all their reinforcements, which amount to upwards of 148000 men. Prince Ferdinand's does not exceed 60,000; ſo that, as there is ſo great a diſproportion in point of numbers, it is imagined the Allies will keep moſtly on the defenſive this campaign. [This Paragraph is dated, Duſſeldorp, May 12.]

LONDON, MAY 26.

Letter from a Gentleman in the Expedition againſt Belleiſle, to his Friend, dated May 11.

"Amidſt the confuſed noiſe of a ſiege, the whiſtling of ſhot, the burſting of ſhells, the vollies of ſmall arms, drums and fifes, &c. &c. &c. I have ſelected this opportunity of telling you, I am well, though fatigued and harraſſed to death. The Iſland is all our own, except Chauteau Palais, a d---'d ſtrong fortification. Our firſt landing was repulſed with the loſs of 460 Men, killed, wounded, and taken priſoners; our ſecond was effected with a ſmall loſs. Skirmiſhes have frequently happened ſince, attended with ſome loſs of men, though we always gained our point; a fortnight more, and we hope to ſee the Engliſh jack flying on the lofty battlements of this grand caſtle. We expect the French Fleet hourly, conſiſting of ſeventeen ſhips of the line: Let them come, and we'll give them the ſame reception Monſieur Conflans met with almoſt in the very ſame place. Adieu, I am now ſummoned, am yours, &c."

Ten tranſports, with troops on board for Belleiſle, are ſailed from Spithead.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, May 19.

"On Wedneſday arrived at Spithead, the Edgar and Hampton Court men of war, with 25 tranſports under convoy from Belleiſle. We hear our forces have got within 50 yards of the citadel.

"At Spithead, Admiral Geary, with twelve men of war."

We are aſſured, by letters from Plymouth, that Lord Robert Manners's regiment embarked there laſt Wedneſday morning, for Belleiſle.

Since the Engliſh have been on Belleiſle, the governor of it has received only one letter, which the French found means to convey by a ſingle perſon in the night, in an open boat.

The Allied army was ready for action the 12th of May.

Letters from Nantz (after repreſenting Belleiſle as loſt) ſay, that they are under great apprehenſions in that city, as they imagine that the Engliſh intend to fortify themſelves in Belleiſle, and make it a place of arms; and afterwards attack Port L'Orient, or ſome other place on the coaſt.

Yeſterday forty-five large tranſports were taken up into the government's ſervice.

A train of artillery, with a detachment of the Royal regiment, will march in a few days from Woolwich, to embark on the ſecond expedition.

We hear that the men of war at Portſmouth, deſigned for a ſecond expedition, will be ready to ſail before the end of this month.

It is computed, that ſince the French have been prevented fiſhing upon the banks of Newfoundland, the produce of that fiſhery hath increaſed to the ſubjects of Great-Britain near a million and an half ſterling.

From the Hague they write, that they had received letters from London, dated the 8th inſtant, which ran thus: "Frequent councils are ſtill held, on the means of accompliſhing a general pacification; which, it is feared, will encounter many obſtacles. Some time ago it was thought, that if a reconciliation between the King of Pruſſia and the Empreſs Queen ſhould not be brought about, that would not hinder the reſtoring a good harmony between our court and France; but at preſent a very different language is held. Baron Kniphauſen, the Pruſſian miniſter, hath repreſented, in ſuch a pathetic manner, the cloſe engagements between this court and that of Berlin, and brought ſuch ſtrong reaſons againſt the inefficacy of a ſeparate peace, that Mr. PITT hath told him, that he might aſſure the King his maſter, that whatever advantageous conditions ſhould be offered at the congreſs, this court would not liſten to them, unleſs his Pruſſian Majeſty was included in the treaty. This declaration, joined to the firm reſolution taken, not to reſtore an inch of land in North-America, is but a bad omen of a ſpeedy peace."

On Wedneſday evening, as capt. Scrope, diſpatched from Belleiſle, was coming up in a boat from Spithead to Portſmouth, in a hard gale of wind, with two lieutenants, and another gentleman, the boat overſet, and the officers and gentleman were drowned, but captain Scrope was ſaved by ſwimming till a boat providentially took him up, and brought him ſafe to land.

'Tis now ſaid that the French have offered to give up all Canada, with Guadaloupe and the Neutral Iſlands, provided our court will conſent to reſtore Senegal, and not oppoſe their taking poſſeſſion of the Auſtrian Netherlands. All other conqueſts to be reciprocally reſtored, and the French to be paid for their ſhipping taken before the declaration of war. The article relating to the Auſtrian Netherlands, is that which at preſent gives the States of Holland great uneaſineſs, and cauſes their holding frequent deliberations, in order, if poſſible, to hinder its taking effect.

Yeſterday at noon captain Scrope, of the Hampton-Court man of war, arrived expreſs at the Admiralty from Belleiſle, with a journal of the proceedings of our troops againſt Palais. General Hodgſon having driven the French out of their ſtrong fortified camp, they were retired into the citadel; and the General had opened ſeveral batteries, which were playing with great ſucceſs, and he hoped to be maſter of the place in a few days.

LOTTERY TICKETS for the New-Jerſey College, Paving of Second-ſtreet, Oxford Church, and

Colonel Crauford, and two Aid de Camps, being out in the night on a reconnoitring party, had the misfortune of falling in with a party of the French, and were taken priſoners.

The French had not received the ſuccours at Belleiſle, as was reported.

By advices from Holland, we are informed, that the general, the intendant, and the mayor of Guadaloupe, at the time of our taking it, have all been ſhot on board a French man of war, purſuant to the ſentence of a court-martial, for giving up the place.

A ſtrong ſquadron of Spaniſh men of war cruizes conſtantly on the coaſts of Algiers, which has obliged that republic to recal moſt of their cruizers. It is ſaid his catholic Majeſty ſollicits all the Italian princes to join their naval ſtrength to his, without delay, in order to give ſuch a reception to the Ottoman fleet, upon their firſt appearance, as may deſtroy their hopes of making any figure at ſea.

All our golden hopes are vaniſhed, and the pleaſing proſpect of an approaching Peace is intercepted, and almoſt choaked up, by as many difficulties and inventions to make that declaration void, and of none effect, as there are powers at war. The partizans of each power accuſe their opponents of prevarication and inſincerity, and wreck their genius to furniſh excuſes for their reſpective ſovereigns. The Empreſs Queen retards the pacific meaſures, to which ſhe would ſeem diſpoſed, by requiring an indemnification for, and an evacuation of, Saxony, by his Pruſſian Majeſty; well knowing, that ſuch a preliminary cannot be complied with, unleſs that King, whom her envy and ambition had devoted to deſtruction, would expoſe himſelf entirely to her mercy. The French, proceeding upon a ſimilar plan with their Auſtrian confederate, appear altogether deſirous to put an end to a war, which has impoveriſhed their mother-country, loſt their beſt plantations in America, and their richeſt ſettlements in Aſia and Africa, and ruined their navy and trade. But we are told, that this ruined people are ſo infatuated with falſe notions of ſuperiority over their conquerors, that they ſigned the declaration of their pacific intentions, purely with a view to prevail with Great-Britain to conſent to a ceſſation of hoſtilities for ſix months by ſea and land. [Some people ſay, this is the deſign of M. de Buſſy's viſit.] During which interval they might be able to repair the ſhattered remains of their navy; ſend powerful ſupplies to Martinico, and to their Indian friends on the continent of America, and particularly to reinforce their armies, and repleniſh their magazines in Germany; without which they are in no condition to maintain their ground againſt the Britiſh allies.------A little time will ſhew whether we ſhall have the ſteadineſs to withſtand French Chicanery, with its attendant &c's.

Extract of a letter from Portſmouth, May 25.

"Laſt night arrived the Fly ſloop, capt. Gayton, with an expreſs from Belleiſle, which, we are told, brings an account, that the garriſon had made another ſally, but were repulſed by our marines, who purſued them ſo cloſely, as to enter the town with them, and gallantly ſuſtained their ſuperior force till a reinforcement came up. We are now in poſſeſſion of the town, and it is thought the citadel will ſoon ſurrender. Capt. Caruthers, of the marines, was wounded, but we hear not dangerouſly. We have cut off their communication from a large reſervoir of water, which they had ſtrenuouſly defended. Our troops are all in high ſpirits."

The outworks of the town of Palais, attacked and carried by our troops on the 13th inſtant, were defended by near a thouſand men, and 22 pieces of cannon. The French loſt above 300 men, and all their cannon, which were turned againſt the town. Our loſs amounted to about 150 in killed and wounded.

We are now aſſured, that after ſeveral ſpirited meſſages between General Hodgſon and the Governor of fort Palais, relative to the Engliſh priſoners who were expoſed to our fire, it is at length ſettled, that they ſhall be ſhipped on board of ſome tranſports in the road, and their fate to be determined by that of the place.

Saturday laſt M. Buſſy was ſaid to be landed at Dover, and yeſterday morning Hans Stanly, Eſq; ſet out for Dover; the ſame ſhip, we hear, that brought over M. Buſſy, is to carry Mr. Stanly to Calais.

One advantage reaped from the attempt made on the Iſland of Belleiſle, is, that the French have been obliged to detach no leſs than 15 regiments from their armies in Germany to line their coaſts, to prevent any other attempts of our troops upon them.

BOSTON, JULY 27.

On Saturday laſt arrived here the province ſloop, capt. Scott, from St. John's in Newfoundland; having on board John Winthrop, Eſq; Holiſian profeſſor of the mathematicks, &c. at Harvard-College in Cambridge; who ſailed from hence for that place about eleven weeks ago, that he might there view the late Tranſit of Venus over the Sun.--- It is probable the public will ſoon be obliged with a particular account of this gentleman's obſervations.--- At preſent we can only inform our readers, that Mr. Winthrop was favoured on the ſixth of June with a fine bright morning; and had the happineſs of viewing with all advantage, a phænomenon ſo long expected, and ardently deſired by aſtronomers, and ſo earneſtly recommended by Dr. Halley to the diligent and accurate obſervation of the philoſophers of the preſent day;-----a phænomenon, which perhaps no man ever ſaw before, except Mr. Horrocks, an Engliſh gentleman, more than a century ago.----The Tranſit, we are informed, did not end at St. John's till upwards of fifty minutes after the ſun had riſen; during which time Venus was ſeen upon his diſk.---It is likewiſe ſaid that Mr. Winthrop's obſervations demonſtrate a ſurprizing exactneſs in Dr. Halley's tables and calculations.

NEW-YORK, JULY 30.

Capt. Morris left Liverpool the 31ſt of May: On the 16th of July, he ſpoke with the ſnow Kerry, John Gillis, maſter, from Glaſgow, bound to Virginia.

Auguſt 3. Friday laſt Captain Linn arrived here, in 16 days from Providence; by him we have advice, That his Majeſty's ſhip the Zephyr had taken, and carried in there, Captain Waterman, from the Mount for New-London; and Captain Dupleſſe, from the ſame place for Philadelphia; and that Capt. M'Donnald, in a Providence privateer, had carried in there Captain Brown, bound from the Weſt-Indies for Philadelphia; that a ſhip of 20 guns is fitting out at Providence, in order to cruize off the Mount for a large Indiaman, that arrived there lately from London.

The ſame day eight tranſports, under convoy of the ſhip Spry, of Philadelphia, arrived here from Domi-nica; with whom came Captain Ogden, and his company of rangers: Theſe ſhips ſailed from hence in May laſt, with the troops under the command of Lord Rollo. By ſeveral letters from the above iſland, we learn, That many of the inhabitants continued obſtinate, fled to the mountains, and would by no means ſwear allegiance to his Britannick Majeſty.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 6.

The following we have from the Annapolis Gazette of the 30th ult. viz. "That Captain Joſeph Richardſon, in the Snow Friendſhip, arrived there the 28th of laſt Month from London, but laſt from Falmouth, which he left the 17th of May, in Company with the General Wall Packet for New-York; and on the 19th, in the Morning, about 20 Leagues to the Weſtward of Uſhant, fell in with, and came through a Fleet of Ships, conſiſting of four Sail of Engliſh Men of War, and 60 Tranſports, who were on their Return from Belleiſle to Portſmouth, having ſubdued and taken the whole Iſland, with the Loſs of about 1500 Men during the Expedition, and had then the French Garriſon on board; the other Priſoners which they took being ſent from Belleiſle to l'Orient; and the Engliſh Forces were left to Garriſon the Place, with five Sail of the Line, and three Frigates, to guard the Iſland."

The Ship Indian Trader, Captain Robinſon, from this Port for London, is taken, and carried to Bayonne.

The Brig Honeſt Heart, from Piſcataqua, was taken, but afterwards retaken by His Majeſty's Ship Antigua, and ſent to Barbados.

The Snow Charming Betſey, Capt. Campbell, from this Harbour for St. Lucar, was taken, and ranſomed for 3000 Dollars.

From Jamaica we have Advice, that His Majeſty's Ship Glaſgow had taken, and ſent into Port-Royal, a ſmall French Privateer, of 14 Swivel Guns: And that a large French Merchantman had been alſo ſent in there by the Captains Mantle and Waſhington, in two Privateers.

Arrived at Barbados from this Port, Captains Polegreen, Singleton, Nicholſon and Jenkins; Herbert and Price from Virginia; Wills from Piſcataqua; and Caldwell from New-London.

Le Chevalier de St. CROIX.

[Thus far the Gazette Extraordinary.]

Lieut. Majoribanks, of Beauclerck's.---Capts. Gordon and Cope, of Crauford's Light Infantry.

On the above Occaſion the Guns in the Park were fired at Half paſt Ten, and thoſe at the Tower about Eleven, and at Twelve o'Clock on Saturday Night, Bonfires were lighted before the Admiralty and War-Office.

Ancona, May 22. A Venetian Frigate, commanded by Capt. Balovick, on meeting with an Algerine Xebeck, near the Iſle of Cyprus, whither ſhe was going as Convoy to a Number of Merchant Ships, made a Feint, as if ſhe wanted to avoid the Corſair. The Algerines immediately exerted themſelves to overtake the Frigate, which they ſucceeding in, and every Thing being prepared for boarding, the Frigate, on a Sudden, poured in ſuch a terrible Broadſide upon them, as ſhattered the Xebeck all to Pieces, and not ſo much as one Perſon on board eſcaped.

The Treaty lately concluded between the Courts of Berlin and Conſtantinople, is daily expected at Magdebourg. It is confidently reported, it contains a defenſive Alliance between the ſaid Powers, in caſe the Court of Peterſburgh ſhould preſume to lay any Claims to Pruſſia, or detain the leaſt Part of it; which, it is thought, cannot interfere with the intended Congreſs, provided his Pruſſian Majeſty ſettles his Differences with the other belligerant Powers.

Munſter, May 23. Prince Ferdinand's Head Quarters are ſtill at Newhauſs, where he will remain ſome Time. According to all Appearance it ſhould ſeem as if he waited for the Motion of the two French Armies, in order to regulate his Operations. The little Advantage he had for a Moment, as it were, in Heſſe, before M. Broglio's Army was aſſembled, is now pretty well over; at preſent the French have two Armies in Germany, the leaſt of which is more than ſufficient to intimidate all the Allies. We reckon that the firſt Proceedings of theſe two formidable Bodies will be to penetrate together into the Electorate of Hanover, where, according to the Rules of Probability, the Enemy will not be able to make any Reſiſtance.

Hague, May 30. A Courier who was diſpatched from Peterſburgh to Prince Gallitzin, at London, undeceived us as he paſſed through this Place, with regard to the Rumour, that 40,000 Ruſſians were detached from the Army to aſſiſt the Operations of the Auſtrians in Sileſia; and we hear it marched towards the original Place of Deſtination.

Paris, June 2. The Loſs of Belleiſle, if that ſhould happen, will ſerve only to animate our Court to make new Efforts. The King wiſhes for Peace, but he would have an equitable and ſafe Peace.---The Advantages which the Enemy may gain will not facilitate the Negociations of a Peace. All the Reports of a Suſpenſion of Arms are groundleſs.

Breſt, June 2. The Squadron which is equipping here and at Rochefort, will be more formidable than has been imagined. The Court has ſent Orders to add to the Men of War fitted out at Rochefort, the Tonant, and l'Orient, each of 80 Guns, the Northumberland of 70, and the two Prames, La Francoiſe and La Baſtide. As the Diadem probably will not be got ready time enough, the Protée, of 64 Guns, is to be ſubſtituted in her Place. The Vaillant, of the ſame Tonnage, and the Dragon, of 74 Guns, are already careened. The Hector, Le Palmier, and the Opale Frigate, of 30 Guns, Le Robuſte, of 74, and l'Eveille of 64 Guns, which are in the Vilaine, will be careened this Week, and the whole Armament ready towards the Middle of this Month. M. de Blenac is to have the chief Command.

Frankfort, June 4. A Report has prevailed here for ſome Days paſt, that M. Broglio is going to detach 20,000 Men from his Army, who are to march into Saxony; but it is more probable that he will keep all his Forces together, in order to penetrate, if he can, into the Electorate of Hanover.

Hamburgh, June 4. The People of Magdebourg are not a little apprehenſive of a Viſit from the French. The Garriſon conſiſts only of two Battalions and a Regiment of French Deſerters, who watch every Opportunity to make their Eſcape, in order to avoid falling into the Hands of their Countrymen. They are therefore never ſuffered to do Duty in the Suburbs or on the Ramparts, but compoſe the Main-guard in the City, and occupy ſome other Poſts, where they cannot get away.

Paris, June 5. Our Miniſtry are extremely attentive to the Object of the new Armament preparing in the Ports of Great-Britain; and as they preſume that it may be intended againſt the Iſle of Oleron, Orders have been juſt ſent to the Troops diſperſed upon the Coaſts of Aunis and Saintonge, to hold themſelves ready to paſs over, on the firſt Notice, to ſaid Iſle.

Mr. Stanley has conferred twice with the Duke de Choiſeuil, who is to preſent him To-morrow to the King.

Hague, June 9. When our laſt Letters came from London, M. de Buſſy had not appeared in Publick, nor conferred with Mr. P. under Pretence of a Cold; which will, no Doubt, continue till he hears of Mr. Stanley's Arrival at Paris.

Hamburgh, June 9. We have Letters here from the Camp of the Pruſſians at Greiffenberg, dated the 2d of this Month, which ſay, that the Ruſſians had paſſed the Viſtula: That one Column of them, ſaid to conſiſt of 20,000 Men, were marching from Thorn to Poſen: That which had been poſted near Marienwerder was advanced to Mewa.

The Camp compoſed of 18,000 Men near Dirſchau, was moving towards Conitz and Tuchel.

General Tottleben with his Light Troops, formed a Kind of a Line above Butow, towards Tepplebourg; the Left Wing was filing off towards Friedland; and the Remainder, with the Infantry, forming themſelves very near Stolpe.

The Deſigns of the Enemy were not yet known; but in the mean while the Pruſſians formed a Chain againſt them from Colberg towards Coerlin, along the Right Side of the River Perſante; and the Light Troops were poſted at ſome Diſtance in their Front, to be ready for the Opening of the Campaign.

Hague, June 12. We hear, on the 9th Inſt. the Army of the Prince of Soubiſe was cantoned in ſuch a Manner round Weſel, as to be able to march into Camp in the Space of 12 Hours: That a Bridge of Boats was laid at Mulheim, another at Duſſeldorff, and a Third at Weſel. On the 10th, the Corps that was encamped near Weſel, croſſed the Lippe, and placed their Vanguard at Galen. The ſame Day, the Corps that had been at Duſſeldorff arrived at the Camp at Weſel. That which was encamped at Rees, was to march the 10th, and was to join the Army at Peddenbourg on the 11th. There is a prodigious Deſertion among their Cavalry; ſeveral of them have been ſeen here, with their Horſes and Accoutrements.

From the Frontiers of Sileſia, June 4. The King of Pruſſia is ſtill in his Camp near Kuntzendorff. Part of his Army, we hear, has advanced to Franckenſtein, which is not far from the County of Glatz. The Corps under the Command of General Goltze continues encamped near Glogau.

LONDON, JUNE 1.

By the Druid Sloop, arrived on Thurſday from Belleiſle, we learn, that the Marines marched againſt the French without Powder and Ball, with their Bayonets fixed.

They were bid to halt, till the Ammunition came up; but they marched forward, and desired it might follow them. The Bravery and Intrepidity of this Corps cannot be too greatly commended; they were the first Body that made good the Landing on the 22d ult. and have ever since had advanced Posts.

Extract of a Letter from Leghorn, dated May 15.

"The Vestal Man of War has been very successful; she came in Yesterday with three French Prizes from St. John d'Acre; the chief Lading of them is 252 Bales of Cotton Wool, 258 Bales of Cotton Yarn, 36 Bales of Silk, &c. And another Prize, bound from Marseilles to Alexandria, with 17 Bales of Cloth, &c."

June 12. Letters from Hamburgh, of the 2d Instant, say, that all that has been intimated in News Papers about some Thousand Danish Land Forces, and a Fleet of Men of War going into the French Service, was without the least Foundation.

On Tuesday last Commodore Sir Piercy Brett returned to the Downs in the Newark, with the Minerva, Biddeford, Lynn, Otter, and Flamborough's Prize. He had been on the Coast of France, to reconnoitre it, upon the Report of a Body of 3000 Men being assembled, under a Pretence of attempting an Invasion; but it is all evaporated into Smoke.

M. Bussy dispatched an Express to the Court of France on Tuesday Night last, at Eleven o'Clock.

June 16. By a Letter from Belleisle we are informed, that General Hodgson, the rest of the English Officers, and the Chevalier de St. Croix, all dined together in the Town of Palais, on Monday last.

It is said, that Colonel Howe has had the Calf of his Leg carried off by a Cannon Ball, but is in a fine Way of doing well.

It is with Pleasure we hear of the intended Promotion of Admirals. For, who will not rejoice at hearing of the Names, Brett, Tyrrel, Keppel, Howe, being added to the present List?

The Industry, Bryson, from Amsterdam for New-York, was attacked the Day after he sailed from the Texel, by a French Privateer, who endeavoured to board her; but Captain Bryson giving her a Broadside and Volley of Small Arms, she sheered off.

By Letters from France, by the Way of Holland, we learn, that the Court seems disposed to make Peace at any Rate, and waits impatiently for the Answer to M. de Bussy's Proposals for a Cessation of Arms.

Some Letters from Holland advise, that not only all the young People in the King of Prussia's German Estates are pressed into the Service, but even Men of 60; and that this Step hath occasioned a greater Apprehension of an Invasion in all Parts of his Dominions, than at any Time since the War began.

It is reported, that Monsieur de St. Croix had 900 Men killed, and 300 wounded during the Siege.

When the Torrington Man of War left Belleisle, there were fifty Sail of Ships of War before that Place.

The English Prisoners came out of the Citadel with the Terms of Capitulation, and joined the Camp. The French Governor also visited General Hodgson.

On Sunday last the Earl of Holderness gave a very grand Entertainment at Sion House, at which Monsieur Bussy, and several of the Nobility, were present.

This Morning his Excellency Sir Joseph York, set out for Harwich, in his Way to Holland.

All the Letters from Ireland and Scotland are filled with the Demonstrations of Joy shewn on his Majesty's Birth-Day, which were never exceeded on any Occasion.

This Day an Account came, that his Majesty's Ship the Argo, Captain King, has taken and brought to the Nore, the Marshal Duc de Brunn Privateer, of Dunkirk, mounting 15 Carriage Guns, six Pounders, and 12 Swivels, but pierced for 20 Guns. She has taken 10 Prizes, and had seven Ransomers on board, for 4605 l. This is the same Ship which engaged the Duke of Tuscany, of Bristol, for seven Glasses, when she blew up.

We are told, that a Person lately arrived, paid his first Visit to a noble Earl, of distinguished Abilities, who acquainted him, that he must wait on the Right Hon. ------ to whom we principally owe our Unanimity and Success; which he did, and, it is reported, talked of something like an Indemnification for Ships taken before the War; to which he was answered, Not a Shilling: Then he talked of 50,000 Men being ready to invade us; the Answer to which was, Let them come, we are ready to receive them: And the third and last Hint was, that a large Army was ready to enter the Electorate of Hanover; to which Answer was given, We were in no Fear of that, or any Thing else they could do.

The King has been pleased to appoint Major General Crauford to be Governor of his Majesty's Island of Belleisle.

Yesterday the Lord Viscount Howe set out from his House at Whitehall for Portsmouth, to take on him the Command of a Fleet.

June 18. Seven Ships of the Line are ordered to sail immediately from Portsmouth, to join Com. Keppel.

Several Persons are gone to Ireland, to make large Contracts for Cattle for Belleisle.

The States of Holland, perceiving that all the Powers in Europe are either arming or already armed, incline to follow their Example; as Experience has taught them, that a Neutrality can never be respected, without a Force sufficient to prevent its being despised, or invaded with Impunity.

The Letters from Paris observe, that their Hopes of Assistance from Denmark were entirely dissipated; the State of their Finances rendering the Conditions of the Treaty impossible.

Our last Advices from Madrid insinuate, that the Affairs of Italy will be settled some Time this Summer; and that his Catholic Majesty is extremely desirous that the Italian Princes and States may enter into a perpetual Confederacy for the Preservation of Peace among themselves, and the Keeping up a constant Force by Sea and Land, to protect them against the Turks.

We hear that the Cumberland Man of War, of 70 Guns, is lost off Goa, in her Passage from Bombay to join Admiral Stevens. This Ship had been in the East-Indies eight Years.

From Dusseldorp we are informed, that the Hereditary Prince of Brunswick's Army is 20,000 strong, and encamped between Ham and Dumelen.

The Friendship, Boyd, from Philadelphia to Lisbon, is taken and carried into Vigo.

By a Letter from Belleisle, of the 5th Inst. we are informed, that as Major-General Hodgson, and another Officer, were viewing the Breach made in the Citadel, they perceived a Bomb perpendicular over their Heads, which fell on a Piece of Cannon they were leaning on; but they had the Precaution to fall both on their Faces in Time, and luckily received no Hurt.

Yesterday at Noon arrived an Express from Paris to Mons. Bussy,

The Letters from Oporto, by the Wager Man of War, dated the 18th of May, say, that two Ships from South-Carolina for Oporto were taken and carried into Vigo, but do not mention their Names.

The Susannah, from Oporto for Quebec, was retaken by the Modeste Man of War the 24th ult. and is since arrived at Plymouth.

By Advices from Belleisle we learn, that when the Garrison surrendered, there were only two Guns remaining in the Citadel fit for Service: That three large Breaches had been made in the Wall; and that the Reduction of that Place has cost us about 1000 Men.

The last Letters from Hamburgh advise, that the Russians are expected to act with more Vigour this Campaign, than they have done since the Commencement of the War. The Czarina was so provoked on receiving an Account of the Treaty just concluded by the King of Prussia with the Grand Turk, that she swore it should cost him dear; and immediately sent a Courier to Vienna to assure the Empress Queen, that she would employ all her Forces in Conjunction with her Majesty's, to reduce the Prussian King to the Marquisate of Brandenbourg.

These Letters add, that there was no more Talk of the Danish Troops encamping in Holstein; but that the People of Hambourg were nevertheless apprehensive that the King of Denmark would, sooner or later, assert his Claim to that City.

Extract of a Letter from Vienna, June 2.

"The Dispositions that are making in all Parts, give room to expect soon, News of the last Importance. General Laudohn is at the Head of 60,000 Men, and his Operations in Silesia will be seconded by a Body of Russians. The Court places so much Confidence in this General's Abilities, that when the Plan of Operations against Silesia was forwarded to him, they sent him Word, that they referred the Execution of it wholly to him; and, that he might not be thwarted in any of his Enterprizes by other Generals, he should be subject to no Orders but those which he should receive directly from the Empress Queen."

Letters from the Hague advise, that it was said by several foreign Ministers at that Place, that the Congress was put off.

Extract of a Letter from Paris, June 12.

"Though the Disposition of the British Court exactly corresponds with the King's sincere Desire to hasten the great Work of Peace, we know not yet what to think, either of the Congress at Augsbourg, or of the Negociations that are to be managed by Mess. Stanley and Bussy. The latter, we are confidently told, is to labour principally to obtain a Suspension of Arms; but the British Court will not consent to this before the Surrender of Belleisle; and if the Report be true, that they will listen to no Accommodation without including the King of Prussia in it, it is probable that they will hear of no Suspension of Hostilities, in which he is not comprehended."

A Letter from the Hague of the 12th Instant, says, that the Count d'Affry had received that Day, a Letter from the Prince de Soubise, and another from Marshal Broglio, informing him, that they were at length ready to begin their Operations, and that he might expect soon important News.

BOSTON, August 3.

Capt. Dixey, who arrived at Marblehead last Saturday Se'nnight, informs, that he sailed from Lisbon the First of June, and that on the 3d (being Wednesday) Half an Hour after 6 o'Clock in the Morning, when but 10 Leagues from the Rock of Lisbon, he felt a most severe Shock of an Earthquake, which lasted about 3 Minutes. It made his Ship tremble in a surprising Manner, and put them into great Concern for themselves, and much Fear of the Consequences on Shore, the Shock was so very great.

NEW-YORK, August 10.

A Commission is come over in the Packet, appointing CADWALLADER COLDEN, Esquire, Lieutenant Governor of this Province; and, we hear, it is to be opened this Day in Council.

The Garrison of Belleisle, when it surrendered, consisted of 2300 Men.

The Harriot Packet, Capt. Brindley, was going into Falmouth as the General Wall came out.

Last Monday arrived here a re-taken Sloop of Bermuda, sent in here by the Mars Privateer, Capt. Anson.

Extract of a Letter from the Camp at Crown-Point, dated July 24.

"Our Employ here is working at the Fort: We have had the following regular Regiments. I give them as they arrived here from Canada, viz. The 40th Regiment, 42d or Royal Highlanders, 2 Battalions, 15th, 35th, 28th, 48th, 43d, 3d Battalion of Royal Americans expected, but not arrived; the 27th, who are garrisoned here, and as far down as Lake George. Each Regiment remains here about 3 Weeks or a Month. The 40th, 1st and 2d Battalion of Royal Highlanders, and 15th have marched to New-York, in the same Order they came; the rest expect to follow successively. Provincial Regiments here are the two Connecticut complete, 200 New-Hampshire, and but 100 of the Massachusets yet arrived. The Plan of the Fort is so large that it can scarcely be compleated this Year."

Capt. Thodey's Company, we hear, is safe arrived at Oswegatchi. And that a Negroe Man is to be burnt this Day at Albany for the Murder of a White Man.

PHILADELPHIA, August 16.

Private Letters from London, by the Packet, mention, That the French have agreed to cede all North-America and Guadaloupe to us, and to ratify the same at the Conclusion of the Treaty of Peace, without so much as making Mention thereof at the ensuing Congress; only they want some Land North of the River St. Lawrence, to cure Fish on; but the English, knowing them to be bad encroaching Neighbours, don't chuse they should have a Foot: And that Peace seems at a Distance.

Captain Tull, who arrived here last Week from Teneriffe, on the 18th ult. in Lat. 29, Long. 64, spoke with Capt. Foster, in a Brig belonging to Liverpool, bound from the Coast of Africa to South-Carolina or Virginia, with 116 Slaves on board, all well.

We hear from New-York, that the Halifax Packet is now under Sailing Orders.

WHITEHALL, April 24, 1761.

The following ADDRESS of the Lieutenant GOVERNOR and COUNCIL of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent, and Sussex, upon Delaware, in AMERICA, has been presented to His MAJESTY by THOMAS PENN, and RICHARD PENN, Esquires, Proprietaries of the said Province, being introduced by the Lord of His Majesty's Bed-Chamber in Waiting: Which Address His Majesty was pleased to receive very graciously.

To the KING's Most Excellent MAJESTY,

The humble ADDRESS of the Lieutenant Governor and Council of the Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent, and Sussex, upon Delaware, in America.

MOST GRACIOUS SOVEREIGN,

YOUR Majesty's most dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lieutenant Governor and Council of Your Province of Pennsylvania, and Counties of New-Castle, Kent, and Sussex, upon Delaware, in America, humbly beg Leave to take this first Opportunity, which our distant Situation allows, of joining the universal Voice of Your faithful People, in most cordial Condolance with Your Majesty, on the Loss of our late most Excellent Sovereign; a Prince whose Name will be sacred to Posterity, and his Virtues a Model to all succeeding good Princes.

Much is due, SIR, to the Memory of Your illustrious Grandfather from Britons of every Clime and Degree. But we, who inhabit these Colonies, are in a more peculiar Manner bound to remember him with the warmest Gratitude, as our kind nursing Father, and most zealous Protector against the Machinations and Attempts of our powerful and enterprizing Enemies.

Nor could any Thing alleviate the Sorrow which we feel on the sudden Loss of so gracious a King in the full Career of GLORY, HONOUR and SUCCESS, but the Consideration that His Sceptre hath devolved to a Prince, whose early Virtues and known Affection to His People and native Country, afford the most agreeable Presages that He will magnanimously pursue the Vigour and Wisdom of those Measures by which His illustrious Progenitor became feared Abroad, and beloved at Home.

May Your Majesty be graciously pleased to accept of our sincere Congratulations on Your happy Accession to the Government of so great a People, with our fervent Prayers that Your Reign may be long and happy over them; and may we be permitted, in all Humility, to add the most earnest Assurances of our continual Endeavours to demonstrate our Loyalty, Duty and Obedience, by every Act in our Power.

By Order of the Governor and Council, in Council, the Thirtieth Day of January, in the First Year of His Majesty's Reign, and in the Year of our Lord, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Sixty-one.

RICHARD PETERS, SECRETARY.

PHILADELPHIA.

To do Good, and to communicate, forget not, for with such Sacrifices God is well pleased. Heb. xiii. 16.

BY the Accounts published in this Gazette of the 6th Instant, it appears that the Ballance for Expences against the PENNSYLVANIA HOSPITAL encreases every Year, amounting now to above Thirteen Hundred Founds; and as the Number of Patients are continually encreasing, no rational Method of keeping this Ballance from growing greater seems so likely to be successful, as that of soliciting Contributions from the Benevolent, whether Strangers or Inhabitants.-----This Method hath hitherto been very prosperous; but when it is considered that the Managers have much Business of their own, and are obliged to be very often engaged in the Affairs of the Hospital, it cannot be thought unreasonable again to request, in this general Manner, that the Donations of all who have not yet contributed, or of such whose Gifts do not bear a Proportion to the Substance with which God hath blessed them, may be paid to the Treasurer, without farther Application. And as every Contributor may see, by the printed List, whether any able Persons of his Acquaintance, or in his Neighbourhood, have not yet subscribed, they are desired to use all their Influence on such, that they may assist in this good Work. This would save much Time and Trouble to the Managers, who are often disappointed in not finding People at home; and who, with their utmost Diligence, may miss some, without the least designed Slight, whose Abilities and Inclinations are as great as many to whom they apply.---Any Persons favoured with a humane and kind Disposition, may be satisfied as to the Prudence of disposing of their Benefactions in this Manner, by applying to either of the Managers or Treasurer, who will give them a Book just now published, containing an Account of the whole Management thereof for seven Years past: By this it appears, that from the Beginning of this excellent Institution, Eight Hundred and Seventy human Beings, afflicted many of them with the most grievous Disorders, have been received by this Charity, of which above Six Hundred have been cured and relieved, besides a Number now under Care. When it is considered that many of these poor Fellow Creatures must, in all Probability, have perished, if they had not had such a convenient Place to be nursed, and to have all proper Care taken of them in, where they are assiduously tended, by skilful Physicians and Surgeons, without any pecuniary Reward---When this Consideration has its full Weight, how must the Heart of every Contributor glow with Joy, to think that he has been helpful in restoring from the Bed of languishing, perhaps tormented with acute and accumulated Distempers, to a State of Soundness and perfect Health, a Number of Members of the Commonwealth, who were before burthensome, but are now capable of being useful to it? When to this is added, that it is but the Beginning of the Good which their Money will be instrumental in doing; that for many Years, probably for Ages to come, it will continue to assist in the same Kind of good Works, what Mind but must feel a more grateful and sincere Pleasure in this Prospect, than in any Thing merely selfish? And this Pleasure every Person who hath any Thing to spare, may be capable of feeling; those especially who are blessed with large Estates, may exert the greatest Privilege (according to a judicious Author) belonging to their Situation---"To be able to "soften the Calamities of Mankind, and inspire Gladness into a Heart oppressed with Want, is indeed the "noblest Privilege of an enlarged Fortune." *

Nor let any Person who is able and inclinable to give, suffer themselves to be prevailed on to defer it. Delays are dangerous, Riches may take Wing, and fly away. This brings to my Remembrance the following Story in the Rambler, with which I shall conclude.

"When Baxter had lost a Thousand Pounds, which he "had laid up for a benevolent Purpose, he used frequently "to mention the Misfortune, as an Incitement to be "charitable, while GOD gives the Power of bestowing, "and considered himself culpable, in some Degree, for "having left a good Action in the Hands of Chance, and "suffered his Benevolence to be defeated for want of Di-"ligence and Quickness."

¶ PETER SHUGERT, Sheriff.

VIENNA, May 9.

WE do not find that the affair of a peace advances. The recovery of Silesia seems to be a point sine quo non.

Lisbon, May 5. Our court, persuaded that the preparations of the Turks are not designed against Malta only, hath given orders for putting our forces by sea and land on a respectable footing.

Leghorn, May 5. If the news this moment received by letters from Constantinople be true, a rebellion is broke out in that empire, fomented by the Janissaries, and two powerful Bashaws.

Hague, May 5. The light troops of the army under the hereditary Prince, have attacked and routed some of the advanced posts of the two French camps at Rees and Wesel which caused great alarms in those camps, where the desertion is very considerable.

Naples, May 6. Pursuant to orders from court, 5000 men are assembled on the coasts of Sicily, to be in readiness to embark for Malta, where the number of regular troops already amounts to 15,000 foot, and 3000 horse.

Cassel, May 7. There is reason to believe that a body of French troops will encamp between this city and Gottingen. The army of the Prince de Soubise amounts to 70,000 men. It is said that this army, without stopping to lay siege to Munster, will advance towards Hanover, both by the way of Westphalia and by Gottingen. The French have begun again to add new works to the fortifications of Cassel.

Dresden, May 13. The body of troops which the king of Prussia is leading to Silesia, consists of 40,000 men. He marches all day without halting, and sometimes the soldiers have not above three hours rest in the night. These forced marches have occasioned a considerable desertion among the enemy, and which still would have been much greater, had the nights been light. As soon as M. Daun saw the route they were taking, he ordered Count Lascy to follow them with his corps, and has since detached Gen. Sincere with 20,000 men, to reinforce M. Laudohn's army.

Vienna, May 13. On Saturday last Gen. Laudohn's first Aid de Camp arrived here express, with an account that his Prussian Majesty, at the head of 80,000 men, was advancing towards him; and as this had disconcerted the original plan, he desired to be furnished immediately with further instructions.

Francfort on the Oder, May 18. The King passing thro' Bautzen, found a magazine of meal which the Austrians had not time to carry off, which he immediately converted into bread for his army.

Frontiers of Saxony, May 18. The camp which Prince Henry occupies is the more advantageous, as he can send out detachments on any side, in case the Austrians should attempt a diversion; and to maintain a free and sure communication with the army of the King his brother, he is about detaching a good body of troops under General Seydlitz, to take post opposite Luben in Lusatia.

Neighbourhood of Cassel, May 18. On the 12th the merchants and Jews of Cassel had notice given them to advance for the town, in 24 hours, 100,000 livres, on account of filling up the entrenchments made by the Allies, during the late siege. This sum not being raised within the time limited, the French sent 15 grenadiers into each house of the Jews, to live at discretion; upon which they paid 13,000 crowns, as their quota, besides the expence of the military execution. The merchants are using their utmost endeavours to collect their part.

Nuremberg, May 19. M. Broglio is re-assembling his forces, in order to begin his operations; and the Allies are preparing to receive them properly, and secure the superiority this campaign, that the courts of London and Berlin may be in a situation to dictate, not to receive, conditions of peace.

Whatever may be in this, much blood will be spilt, if a suspension of arms, while the preliminaries are settling, be not agreed to; while there is no cessation of hostilities, each party will flatter itself with gaining some points by dint of arms. With this view England has undertaken the expedition to Belleisle, in order to obtain the demolition of Dunkirk. France, to recover Canada, will employ her utmost efforts to make a conquest of Hanover. Austria wants to have all Silesia in her hands before the congress be opened, and Prussia endeavours to preserve the greatest part of it.

Paris, May 22. Three brigades of French engineers are going, with the King's permission, to Malta.

Vienna, May 23. The junction of the Russians with General Laudohn's army is obstructed by the King of Prussia's march into Silesia. As his Majesty's designs can only be guessed at, the garrison of Glatz hath been reinforced with five battalions of foot, and a regiment of hussars. Nothing will be undertaken either in Saxony or Silesia, till the intentions of the enemy be more clearly discovered. Mean while, Daun's army is held in readiness to march; his Excellency, if occasion should require it, may possibly lead the greatest part of it into Silesia.

Augsbourg, May 24. No plenipotentiary of any of the seven belligerant powers, hath as yet hired a house in this city, except the King of Poland's minister; nor have our magistrates begun to make the usual preparations for the holding of the congress.

Dresden, May 26. Marshal Daun's force, since his junction with General Guasco, is very considerable. Some of his dispositions seem to indicate that he intends to attack Prince Henry, whose army doth not exceed 35 or 40,000 men; whilst the army of the Empire, reinforced by some Austrian regiments, marches strait to Berlin, the inhabitants of which city, according to some accounts, are retiring with their best effects.

Berlin, May 28. Extract of a letter from the Highlands of Silesia, May 24. ---"With regard to the late skirmish near Grieffenberg, the Prussian major Lutz, who is posted at Lowenberg, had formed a resolution to carry off an Austrian picquet, commanded by Capt. Aponte, posted near Wiese in Saxe, which is separated from Grieffenberg only by the Queis. He carried his design into execution at three in the morning, and made prisoners of the picquet, with their commander, whom we have seen pass thro' Jauer. In his return from this expedition, observing a troop of the enemy's hussars, he was desirous to seize the opportunity of cutting them off. He posted himself with so much address, that they were on the point of falling into the snare. During the attack the hussars found means to retreat. Major Lutz, not knowing that Gen. Beck had advanced in the night to Gobhardsdorff, with 4000 men, pursued the hussars to their camp. In an instant 800 of the enemy's horse fell upon our 200 men. The Major drew up three times before he reached Grieffenberg, and slew several of the enemy, who not thinking proper to pursue him farther, he retreated quietly to Lowenberg. His loss amounts to 50 private men, and two officers. The Prince of Baden-Baden is among the Austrians who were wounded.

"Gen. Beck arrived the same day at Grieffenberg; he was astonished at Lutz's boldness in coming to attack him in his camp. That town was forced to pay immediately 2000 crowns. General Beck retired yesterday morning to Bernsdorff in Bohemia."

Paris, June 5. The Allies, sensible of their inability to stand their ground in Westphalia, have begun to convert it into a desart; they have blown up the castle of Bentheim, and drive off the cattle in all parts.

Wesel, June 8. We have received such quantities of forage, that our magazines are larger than they were before the accident that destroyed them. The battering train of Soubise's army is preparing, and the cavalry are employed in twisting hay; so in a very few days every thing will be ready to open the campaign.

Hague, June 9. The last letters from London and Paris gave room to think that the reports of a peace are not ill founded.

LONDON.

May 28. Private letters from the Hague say, that the Marshal Duke de Broglio had received orders from his court to detach 10,000 troops to the French coast.

They write from Paris, that the grand master hath declared Malta a free port for all christian nations whatsoever.

They write from France, that under the apprehensions of a siege at port l'Orient the magazine and effects of the India company were removing from that place.

The Peace, and Plenty, Capt. Peake, from London to Boston, is taken by the Ruby privateer of Bayonne, and carried into Corunna.

June 2. The last letters from Paris say, that the court knowing what advantages the English would derive from the possession of Belleisle in the present situation of affairs, had not only given orders for fitting out 12 or 15 men of war and frigates, to engage the English fleet off that place; but had also sent positive orders to the Duke d'Aiguillon to run all risks for its relief.

June 3. By a list given in last week, it appears that the militia of this kingdom already embodied, are 25,000, equal to veterans.---An army more than sufficient to defeat any designs the enemy may attempt against this country.

June 4. They write from the Hague, that all the officers of the army had received orders to stay with their regiments; and those that were absent on furlow to join them immediately. Such orders (say these advices) too plainly prove the apprehensions we are under from the proximity of the French and allied armies, lest one or the other should make an incursion on the territory of the Republic. Every other precaution is taking, that our situation will permit, by repairing the fortifications, and reinforcing the garrisons of the frontier towns that are most exposed.

They write from Hamburgh, by the way of Holland, that the captain of a Spanish ship, which was just arrived at that town, reported, that the Turks had attempted to make a descent on Malta; but were so well received, that they were soon thrown into such confusion, that great numbers jumped into the sea, and above 10,000 were taken prisoners. This news seems greatly to merit confirmation.

June 5. The four following French Turkeymen have been taken and sent into Leghorn by an English man of war, viz. the ships of Joseph Fonnier, John Joseph Chabroi, and Joseph Touraine, from St. John d'Acre for Marseilles; and the Joseph, Champion master, from Marseilles, bound for Alexandria, being all very richly laden.

June 6. Fifty transports, with English troops on board, arrived the 21st ult. in the mouth of the Weser, from England.

The inhabitants of the Marche of Brandenbourg not being able to get in their harvest last year, on account of the troubles, his Prussian Majesty has given orders that they should be furnished from his own granaries with corn, in proportion to their losses.

A letter from Paris, dated May 26, says, "We have no longer any hope of relieving Belleisle, which will be in the enemy's power before the 16th of next month. Never were the people so much incensed against the Ministry as at present. They are grieved and stung with indignation, to find so little consistency in the management of affairs, and that notwithstanding the impoverished state, to which they are reduced, new taxes are talked of, whilst they can see no end of this unprosperous war, notwithstanding M. de Bussy's departure for London, to settle the preliminaries of Peace. Our Court is so ill served in all parts, that we have no room to hope that the next campaign will be more successful than the preceding. The treaty just concluded between the Ottoman Porte and the King of Prussia will necessarily serve to embroil things more than they are. This Affair, which is only designed to throw dust in the Empress Queen's eyes, and oblige the Russians to retreat, hath been conducted with so much art, that the King knew nothing of it, and is not a little angry that our Ambassador at Constantinople should have said nothing of it in any of his dispatches."

June 9. Some men of war and transports are to sail the latter end of this month for Quebec, with troops and stores.

There is no news from the East-Indies that can be depended upon; the India company have had fresher advices than what came by the last ships; but it is supposed that Pondicherry was taken in January last.

Extract of a letter from an officer in Col. Morris's regiment, dated at the camp before Pondicherry, Oct. 17, 1760.

"We arrived in India after the finest and most pleasant passage ever known, and happily compleated in the space of four months and seven days; and tho' we called in at no place of refreshment by the way, we lost not one soldier of the whole 500 till we landed, which was the 4th of September. We lay at Cudalore one day to rest ourselves, and the next marched 21 miles to camp, and having pitched our tents, entered on our duty with uncommon alacrity. Nor had we time to look about us, till we had an opportunity of recommending ourselves to our superiors. For, on the third night after our arrival, the whole army marched to attack a very strong post the French had, a mile from Pondicherry, in a thick wood, lined with cannon, which we entered at different places, and attacked their strongest battery, consisting of seven 18 pounders. (They had several smaller batteries, which kept an incessant fire on us with grape shot, while we could not give them a return.) When we came near, and had a full view of them, we made them ample amends, by a full discharge of our pieces. These we instantly threw down, off with our bonnets, out with our swords, gave them three huzzas, rushed in full speed to the muzzles of their guns, which they left us in possession of, by a precipitate retreat into their capital. Thus we got 17 pieces of cannon, though not without some small loss on our side, and no wonder, for the loaded guns we seized were filled almost to the mouth with square bars of iron six inches long, lesser pieces of jagged iron, &c. In short they have abandoned all their redoubts, and every out-post belonging to them, and are all now retired within the walls of Pondicherry; but as to our further success I cannot say, as the monsoons soon set in, which may disconcert our measures. I had almost forgot to tell you that there is not one officer wounded but myself, and that so slightly that I am quite recovered; and am, &c."

The names of the forts taken are, Carricol, a regular fortification, with a garrison; Chillimbrum and Vandachtlum, with a fortified redoubt at each angle.

They write from the banks of the oder, that the Russian army had put itself in motion in three columns; the first is commanded by Field-marshal Butterlin, whose vanguard is led by General Czernichef. It is said that this corps will act against Silesia. The second division is commanded by General Fermor, and is said to be destined for a private expedition. The third division, commanded by General Romanzof, will direct its operations against Pomerania. Time will shew whether these dispositions will take place. Mean while the King of Prussia hath detached some thousand men to cover the New Marche of Brandenbourg from the invasion of the Russians, in case they should turn their arms that way.

We hear that the proposals which M. Bussy made our ministry on his arrival, for a cessation of arms for six months, being unexpectedly rejected, he hath sent a courier to his court for fresh instructions, how to proceed in his negociation.

June 11. They write from Hamburgh, of the second inst. that by letters from Dantzick they had an account that 36 Russian transports, with provisions and warlike stores, were drove ashore and wrecked near that place, in a violent storm.

The letters from Paris observe, that their hopes of assistance from Denmark were entirely dissipated; the state of the finances rendering the conditions of the treaty impossible.

June 12. Private letters from Berlin inform us, that the King of Prussia, before he set out for Silesia, held a grand council with the Margrave Charles and his ministers. He told them, That, tired out by the present destructive war, and moved by the calamities it had brought upon all parts of Germany, he was absolutely determined to risk his all upon this campaign, that it be the last. After this he declared to them his intentions concerning the succession to his crown, and the manner he would have his estates governed, in case he should be cut off by a short fit of illness, or should fall in battle.

It is now said that Sir Edward Hawke and Commodore Lord Howe, will most certainly sail with the expedition fleet in a few days, on board which not less than 10,000 are to be embarked.

June 13. A camp is ordered to be marked out on Hounslow Heath.

June 16. Orders are given to the regiments that are to go on the next expedition, to hold themselves in readiness to embark on the first notice.

MONTSERRAT, June 14.

This morning arrived the snow Swift, Matthias Roche master, who was taken the 5th inst. betwixt this island and Rock Dundee, by two French Pettiaugres, and carried to an out bay in Dominico, where the Captain, with 3 of his men, cut her out, and brought her and cargo here, where she is now safe at an anchor.

St. JOHN's (in Antigua) June 17.

The Snow La Fortune, from the Grenades to Marseilles, laden with sugar and coffee, has been taken by a New-York privateer.

June 24. Capt. Turner, late master of a lumber loaded brig from Piscataqua, arrived here a few days ago in a boat his captors gave him to windward of the Island. Captain Beech, in a large ship from the same place, is now ashore on the Diamond; but it is hoped the ship will not be lost.

July 15. A sloop bound from Martinico to St. Eustatius with Sugar, &c. taken by his majesty's sloop Virgin, arrived here last Thursday.

From Sancta Croix we hear that Capt. Hanson, of the brig Mars, has taken a French privateer of 8 guns.

July 22. His Majesty's sloop Antigua, William Nott, Esq; commander, arrived at English Harbour the 14th inst. from a short cruise, in which she has retaken a sloop of and for this place from Guadaloupe, and a brigantine from Piscataqua, called the Honest-heart; and has also taken, after a short resistance, L'Aimable Marie, a French Privateer of 12 carriage guns (six pounders) 14 swivels and 52 men, 12 of which were Negroes, bound from Coracoa to Martinico with wine, bale goods, flour, &c. and commanded by Capt. Brun. Three men were badly wounded in the privateer, but on our side not one was hurt.—The Antigua has been hove down and cleaned, and sailed again the 6th day after her arrival.

A French privateer schooner of 8 carriage and 14 swivel guns, and a sugar loaded sloop from Martinico (both taken by Capt. Laforey, of his Majesty's ship Levant) arrived here last Wednesday.

BOSTON, Auguſt 10.

By a Letter from Rocky-Point, in Cape-Fear, North-Carolina, dated the 26th of May, we are informed, that they have had the greateſt Rains ever known in thoſe Parts. Veſſels of 120 and 200 Tons, loaded, might have ſailed over the Fields; many Perſons were obliged to ſwim their Horſes to return to their Dwellings, and in great Danger of being drowned.---The People at Wilmington were obliged (many of them) to quit their Houſes by Reaſon that the Water flowed therein ſeveral Feet high:---Great Damage has been ſuſtained by this Deluge:---The Rain continued 40 Days, in which Time the Sun was not ſeen.

By a Veſſel arrived at Marblehead, from the Weſt-Indies, we have Advice, that Capt. Philip Lewis, of this Place, Capt. Hathorn of Salem, and Capt. Foſter of Cape-Ann; all bound to the Weſt-Indies, were lately taken by the Enemy, and carried into Martinico.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 17.

On Wedneſday the 26th of April was tried at Guildhall, London, before Lord Mansfield, Chief Juſtice, the Cauſe ſo long depending between Samuel Blackden of Halifax, in Nova Scotia, Plaintiff, and Capt. Gambier, of his Majeſty's Ship Burford, Defendant. The Action was brought for Damages the Plaintiff ſuſtained in Nova Scotia, by the Defendant's taking him by violence from his Freehold there, burning his Houſe, and detaining the Plaintiff unjuſtly on board the Burford 125 Days; when after a hearing of three Hours, a ſpecial Jury of Merchants gave the Plaintiff Eight Hundred Pounds Damages, and Coſts of Suit. (This Verdict muſt give great Satisfaction to all his Majeſty's Subjects in America, and increaſe their Eſteem and Affection for their Mother Country, whoſe excellent Laws will not ſuffer any Injury to the Subject in the moſt remote Part of the Britiſh Dominions, to paſs with impunity; and convince all military Officers, that they are accountable, at home, for every arbitrary Act of Power, even in the moſt diſtant Parts of his Majeſty's Dominions.

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 20.

On Monday laſt a Committee of the Miniſters of this City waited on his Honour the GOVERNOR, and preſented the following Addreſs and Remonſtrance, in Behalf of themſelves and the Subſcribers.

To the Honourable JAMES HAMILTON, Eſq; Lieutenant-Governor, and Commander in Chief, of the Province of Pennſylvania, and the Counties of New-Caſtle, Kent and Suſſex, on Delaware.

The Humble ADDRESS and REMONSTRANCE of the Proteſtant Miniſters of the ſeveral Denominations in the City of Philadelphia, together with the Church-Wardens, Veſtry-men, Elders, and Repreſentatives of their reſpective Congregations.

May it pleaſe your HONOUR,

AS you are the Supreme Magiſtrate of this Province, entruſted not only with the Execution of the Laws now in Being, but empowered alſo (where they are deficient) to propoſe as well as aſſent to new ones; permit us, in the preſent deep Affliction of our Hearts, to unburthen them to your Honour (as we truſt) in the Spirit of Goſpel-Meekneſs, and with a fervent Deſire for the Maintainance of true Religion and Chriſtian Morality in this Place of our Reſidence.

It hath been with the greateſt Concern, for ſome Years paſt, that we have obſerved, among our Fellow-Citizens, an immoderate and growing Fondneſs for Pleaſure, Luxury, Gaming, Diſſipation, and their concomitant Vices. The Impropriety as well as Ingratitude of ſuch a Conduct, is too remarkable to be paſſed over. 'Tis but a few Years ſince our Frontiers were ſwimming in Blood, and this Province groaning almoſt under every Calamity that could befal a People. We then thought it our Duty to humble ourſelves before the Lord, in Sackcloth and Aſhes. Days of Faſting and Mourning were appointed, and, from our ſolemn and crouded Attendance upon theſe Days, it was truſted that ſuitable Impreſſions of Religion, Serioufneſs and Decorum, had been generally made among us. But alas! Theſe Impreſſions (if ever they were real) ſeem, in too many Inſtances, to have vaniſhed with the Danger that created them.

Laſt Winter, we heard of high Scenes of public Gaming, added to and mixed with the uſual Diverſions of the Seaſon. And yet, not content with theſe, our Projectors of Pleaſure, our Leaders in Modes and Faſhions, as if they were afraid to leave themſelves or their Followers one Moment for Buſineſs, or ſober Converſation, or ſerious Reflection upon what they were ſent for into this World, have ſet on Foot a Scheme for filling up the Summer Seaſon alſo with the like Scenes of Diſſipation, Idleneſs and Exceſs. The Scheme we mean (as far as it is yet avowed by them) is a large Subſcription Lottery, for erecting public Gardens, with Baths or Bagnios, among us. How deſtructive ſuch Places of public Rendezvous are to the Morals of a People, what they uſually terminate in, and how ill-ſuited they are to the Circumſtances of this young City, and the former Character of its Inhabitants, we need not mention to your Honour.

The People of Philadelphia have been remarkable for their Sobriety, their Frugality, their Induſtry, and ſerious Turn of Mind. The divine Religion of our bleſſed Lord and Saviour, ſeemed to have had ſome Hold of their Conſciences. People at a Diſtance, who had Children to breed up to Merchandize, to Law, Phyſic, or the Mechanic Profeſſions, gave a due Preference to this Place above others; and by ſuch Means as theſe, we are become a great and flouriſhing People.

But alas! Things are now like to be ſadly [illegible] and of all the Schemes that could poſſibly have been deviſed to corrupt the Morals of our Citizens, and hurt us as a trading People, to make good and ſober Perſons of other Places ſhun us, and to induce the Profane and Diſſolute to come and ſettle among us, the preſent Scheme ſeems the moſt effectual.

Were there nothing more in View than what is pretended, it might be effected with near as few Hundred Pounds as there are Thouſands propoſed. Were a hot and cold Bath neceſſary for the Health of the Inhabitants of this City, they might at a ſmall Expence be added to the Hoſpital, put under the ſober Government of that Place, and kept ſeparate from thoſe uſed by the Patients; and as to a public Place of Walking, the State-Houſe-Green or Garden, by a Law of the Province, is already ſet apart for that Uſe.------But much more than this lurks under this Scheme, and will certainly attend its Accompliſhment. We well know that Gaming-Tables, a Houſe of Entertainment, Places of Drinking, and the like, make a Part of public Gardens; and from many Circumſtances, attending the Projection and carrying on of this Scheme (which we forbear to mention) we have no Reaſon to think that leſs is intended by it.

We do therefore, in the moſt ſolemn and earneſt Manner, remonſtrate and bear our public Teſtimony againſt it to your Honour; moſt humbly requeſting and beſeeching you, by your known Regard to whatever is decent in public Life; by your Regard to the Morals of the preſent and future Generations, and to the Succeſs of the Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt, on which their chief Happineſs muſt depend; to diſcountenance and diſcourage the ſaid Scheme, by every Means in your Power. In that Caſe, we doubt not the Oppoſition that will be ſhewn to it, by grave and good Men of every Degree, under your Honour's Protection and Countenance, will effectually cruſh it. But ſhould we be deceived in this, there are ſtill other Means in your Honour's Power, as a Branch of the Legiſlature, on which we partly ground the Propriety of this Addreſs, as the only Thing we could do during the Receſs of the other Branch.

We are,

May it pleaſe your Honour,

With the utmoſt Regard and Eſteem,

Your Honour's moſt obedient humble Servants.

To which his Honour was pleaſed to make the following ANSWER.

GENTLEMEN,

THE Zeal you expreſs for Religion, and your Concern for the Morals of the People, are very becoming your Functions and Characters; and therefore cannot but be acceptable to me.

I agree with you in Opinion, that multiplying the Scenes of public Diverſion in ſo young a City as ours, may be attended with many of the Miſchiefs and Inconveniences ſet forth in your Remonſtrance; for which Reaſon, as well as becauſe the Means propoſed for carrying the projected Scheme into Execution, are contrary to Law, you may be aſſured it will receive all the Diſcountenance I am able to give it.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

Abſtract of an ACT of PARLIAMENT, paſſed in the Thirty-third Year of the Reign of his late MAJESTY, intituled, An ACT for veſting certain Eſtates in Pennſylvania, New-Jerſey, and Maryland, belonging to the Proprietors of a Partnerſhip, called, The Pennſylvania Land Company in London, in Truſtees to be ſold; and for other Purpoſes therein mentioned.

THE Act recites a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 11th and 12th of Auguſt 1699, from William Penn to Tobias Collet, Michael Ruſſell, Daniel Quare, and Henry Gouldney, of ſeveral Lots in Philadelphia; and a Tract of Land in the County of Bucks in Pennſylvania, granted to Richard Noble; and of One Hundred Acres of Land in the ſaid County, and all Buildings and Improvements thereon; and of Sixty Thouſand Acres of Land in Pennſylvania; and of Five Thouſand Acres thereof in the Manour of Highlands, Five Thouſand Acres in the Manour of Gilberts, in the County of Philadelphia, Five Thouſand Acres in the Manour of Rocklands (Seven Hundred Acres whereof were to be ſet out upon the River Delaware, and the reſt to be one Lot out of every Townſhip) and the Remainder of the ſaid Sixty Thouſand Acres to be ſet out of ſuch other Parts as the ſaid Grantees, their Heirs or Aſſigns ſhould deſire (except ſuch as were already taken up) and alſo of all Lots, Mines, Minerals, Royalties, Commons and Appurtenances (royal Mines only excepted) with a proportionable Part of all Liberty Lots laid out, but not taken up, at and under the yearly Rent of two Beaver Skins.

And alſo, that by Indenture, dated the ſame 12th of Auguſt, between the ſaid Grantees of the one Part, and William Beach and others, of the other Part, the ſaid Grantees agreed to ſtand ſeized upon Truſt, to execute ſuch Deeds as ſhould be approved of by the Grand Committee of the Proprietors; and that the ſaid Grand Committee, or Grantees, by their Order, might depute any Perſon in the ſaid Province to contract for and execute Conveyances of the Premiſes, and that the nett Profits of the Premiſes ſhould be divided into Two Hundred and Twenty Shares, and be managed by a Grand Committee, to be annually choſen, as therein mentioned; and that the Proprietors ſhould be called, The Proprietors of the Pennſylvania Land Company in London; with Directions how the ſaid Two Hundred and Twenty Shares ſhould be transferred or deſcend, in caſe of Death.

And alſo, that in the Year 1720, the Proprietors of the ſaid Two Hundred and Twenty Shares, diſpoſed thereof to a new Sett of Proprietors, who divided the ſame into Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares, and Receipts for many of them were ſigned and given out by Thomas Story the then Treaſurer.

And alſo a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 23d and 24th of December 1720, from the ſaid Thomas Story to John Haddon and Benjamin Kirton, of a Tract of Land between the two navigable Creeks in the County of Kent, in Pennſylvania, containing Eleven Thouſand Acres; another Tract, lying at Pequa Creek, in the County of Cheſter, in Pennſylvania, containing One Thouſand Nine Hundred and Forty Acres; another Tract in Goſhen, in the ſame County, containing Two Hundred and Seventy-four Acres; another Tract on Schuylkill, in the ſaid County of Philadelphia, containing Three Hundred and Thirty-four Acres; one Oil, and one Corn or Griſt Mill, and the Land thereto belonging, containing Six Acres; another Tract of Land in the ſaid County of Bucks, containing One Hundred and Seventy Acres; one Bank Lot and Wharff, containing One Hundred and Twelve Feet, in the ſettled Part of the City, with a ſmall Tenement thereon, and Three Hundred Acres of rich Swamp Land near Philadelphia (whereof about Seventy Acres were imbanked and incloſed) and Seven Thouſand Two Hundred Acres of Land in Pennſylvania, not then taken up; in Truſt for the ſaid Company.

And alſo a Conveyance in Fee, dated the 26th and 27th of September 1723, from Peter Sonmans to the ſaid Haddon, Samuel Bonham, Samuel Turner, and John Midford, of Two Ninetieth Parts of Ninety equal Hundredth Parts of a Tract of Land on the Weſtern Diviſion of New-Jerſey, called Arent Sonman's Manour, in the County of Burlington, containing Twenty Thouſand Acres, with the Allowance for Roads; and all other Tracts belonging to the ſaid Proprietaries in Weſt New-Jerſey, not then taken up; and all Mines, Minerals, Royalties, and Appurtenances thereto belonging (except and reſerved to the ſaid Sonmans, his Heirs and Aſſigns, one full Moiety of the ſaid two equal Ninetieth Parts, to be taken out and diſtinguiſhed from the remaining Part) in one entire Tract, in Truſt for the ſaid Company.

And alſo, the ſeveral Indentures, Conveyances and Deaths, whereby ſuch Parts of the Premiſes, as remain unſold, are become veſted in Thomas Hyam, Thomas Reynolds, and Thomas How, in Fee, in Truſt as aforeſaid.

And alſo that it appears, that about Nineteen Thouſand One Hundred and Ninety-four Acres of the Premiſes have been ſold, and that about Seventy-two Thouſand Three Hundred and Thirty now remain unſold, beſides ſome Houſes, Mills and Tenements.

And alſo, that Three Thouſand Six Hundred and Eighty-one of the ſaid Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares have been transferred to John Bell, who, by his Deed-poll, dated the 12th of November 1753, acknowledged the ſame to be in Truſt for the ſaid Company; and, by Deed-poll dated the 21ſt of September 1759, aſſigned the ſame to the ſaid Hyam, Reynolds, and How, in Truſt as aforeſaid.

And alſo, that Two Hundred and Thirty-three Shares ſtand in the Books of the ſaid Partnerſhip, in the Names of ſome of the original Proprietors, and Three Thouſand Seven Hundred and Twenty-eight Shares, in the Names of ſeveral Perſons ſpecified in the firſt Schedule.

And that, in Purſuance of Advertiſements, Claims have been made, under ſeveral Receipts, for Six Hundred and Fifty Shares, and Twenty-ſix Shares; and the Names of the Perſons who produced ſuch Receipts, or claimed ſuch Shares, are mentioned in the ſecond Schedule.

And alſo, that it is unknown who are entitled to the Remainder of the ſaid Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares; and that ſeveral of the Perſons, named in the ſaid Schedules, are dead; and ſome of the ſaid Shares have been aſſigned; and that the Premiſes unſold are greatly increaſed in Value; and, if ſold, would raiſe a conſiderable Sum to be divided amongſt the Perſons intereſted, and the parcelling out thereof may tend to populate the ſaid Colonies.

And alſo, that Contracts have been made with Francis Rawle, the ſaid Company's Agent in Pennſylvania, for Sale of ſome of the Premiſes; and that it will be for the Benefit of all Perſons intereſted, that what remains ſhould with all convenient Speed be ſold; but Perſons decline treating, unleſs all the Perſons intereſted join in the Sale, or unleſs the ſaid Lands, by Authority of Parliament, be veſted in Truſtees to be ſold.

Therefore, it is ENACTED, that all the Premiſes (except what have been ſold and conveyed by the Truſtees) be veſted in John Fothergill, Doctor in Phyſic, Daniel Zachary, Thomas How, Devereux Bowley, Luke Hinde, Richard How, Jacob Hagen, Silvanus Grove, and William Heron, their Heirs and Aſſigns, diſcharged of the Uſes, Truſts and Powers, the ſame are now ſubject to by the ſaid Indentures, and of all Right of the Perſons intereſted in the Partnerſhip on Eight Thouſand Eight Hundred Shares, but upon Truſt; with all convenient Speed to cauſe an Office-Copy of this Act to be inrolled in the Office of the Maſter of the Rolls in Philadelphia, and a full Abſtract thereof, inſerted ſeven Times at leaſt in the Philadelphia Gazette, with Notice that the Premiſes (not contracted for with the ſaid Rawle) are to be ſold by public Auction, at ſuch Times and Places in Philadelphia, as ſhall be ſpecified in ſuch Gazettes (not leſs than ſix Months from the firſt publiſhing ſuch Notice) in Parcels, to the Perſons who will offer moſt; and ſhall cauſe likewiſe to be publiſhed in the London Gazette, and other daily Papers in England, Advertiſements that the Premiſes are to be ſold by public Auction, in Parcels, to the beſt Bidder, with other Particulars as ſhall be requiſite; and on Receipt in England of the Pennſylvania Gazette (in which ſuch Abſtract and Advertiſements ſhall be inſerted, or one of them, with an Affidavit made before ſome Judge or Magiſtrate at Philadelphia, of the ſame being the Gazette publiſhed at Philadelphia) to cauſe to be publiſhed in the London Gazette, and other News Papers in England, that the Premiſes are to be ſold by public Auction, at the Times and Place mentioned in the Pennſylvania Gazette.

And the Premiſes ſhall be put up to be ſold accordingly, and ſo from Time to Time, till ſold.

And, upon Truſt, to convey all Parcels, by the ſaid Rawle agreed to be ſold, to the Purchaſers, their Heirs and Aſſigns, on Payment of the Purchaſe Money, and on Payment of the Money agreed for any Part, by the Act, veſted in the Truſtees, ſuch Premiſes ſhall, at the Coſt of the Purchaſers, be conveyed to them, their Heirs and Aſſigns.

The Truſtees are empowered to depute any Perſon or Perſons, in Pennſylvania, to ſell and convey, and may revoke ſuch Deputations, and execute new ones; and what ſuch Perſon or Perſons ſhall lawfully do and execute, under ſuch Deputation (until the Revocation thereof ſhall be inrolled in the ſaid Office of the Maſter of the Rolls) ſhall be valid.

The Truſtees ſhall take Care, that ſufficient Security be given by every ſuch Perſon, for his due Behaviour, and remitting to England, with all convenient Speed, all Money received under ſuch Deputation; and no Perſon ſhall be capable to act under it, until he ſhall have given ſuch Security, and an Inrollment thereof be made in the ſaid Office of the Maſter of the Rolls.

The Receipt of the Truſtees, or of any Perſon deputed as aforeſaid, for any Purchaſe Money, in reſpect of Premiſes agreed to be ſold by the ſaid Rawle, or which ſhall be ſold under this Act, ſhall be a ſufficient Diſcharge, and the Purchaſers ſhall not be anſwerable for any Loſs, Miſapplication, or Nonapplication of the Purchaſe Money.

The Truſtees, after Receipt of any Money, ſhall with all convenient Speed pay the ſame into the Bank of England, or place it out in the public Funds at Intereſt, and apply the Dividends as the principal Money is directed to be applied.

None of the Truſtees, or their Deputies, nor any Perſon in Truſt for any of them, ſhall purchaſe under this Act; and every ſuch Purchaſe (if any) ſhall be void.

[For the Remainder, ſee the Fourth Page.]

which he left the 26th of June; by him we have the following Advices, viz.

DRESDEN, June 5.

MARSHAL Daun is gone to conſult with General Laudohn about the meaſures that may be moſt proper to be taken under the preſent circumſtances of affairs. General Haddick commands the Imperial troops in his abſence, part of which are already encamped, but the reſt, eſpecially the cavalry, are cantoned in the towns and villages in our neighbourhood. The Generals Sincere and O'Donnell, who were lately detached towards Sileſia, are ſtill at Zittau with their reſpective corps, and are to ſtay there till further orders; by which ſituation they can either quickly return this way, if there ſhould be occaſion, or go and reinforce General Laudohn's army, in caſe the King of Pruſſia ſhould ſhew any deſign to attack it.

Prague, June 3. It is this day reported, that M. Daun, after ſtationing a body of troops in the territory of Plauen, near Dreſden, and putting a ſtrong garriſon into that capital, has ſuddenly marched, with the reſt of his forces, towards Sileſia. It is certain that General Haddick hath taken the command of the troops from Dippoldſwalde to Dreſden; and that General Laſcy hath taken poſt on the right of the Elbe, to preſerve the communication with Zittau. If M. Daun be really marched, and if it be really true, that the diviſion of the Ruſſian forces, which General Fermer commands, is advancing by Poſen to Sileſia, there will be bloody work. General Goltze wanted to be beforehand with the Ruſſians at Poſen, but not ſucceeding, he hath taken poſt in the confines of Poland, to diſpute their entering Sileſia. As ſoon as Prince Henry of Pruſſia was informed of M. Daun's departure, he aſſembled his whole force in the neighbourhood of Meiſſen.

Francfort on the Oder, June 7. General Goltze is ſtill at Zullichau, and expects reinforcements. The main body of the Ruſſian army ſeems to direct its march that way, whilſt a column, led by Count Czernicheff, will advance towards Breſlau, and another diviſion, leſs conſiderable, is to march into Pomerania, and reinforce the corps under the command of General Tottleben. We do not yet know what diſtance theſe different corps may be from us; but it has been judged expedient to put in a place of ſafety all the boats that were on both ſides of the Oder; and in the night we have brought to this ſide of the river all the flying bridges that might be of uſe to the enemy.

Brandenbourg, June 10. The King hath marched a part of his army towards Frankenſtein, to be nearer the county of Glatz.

Munſter, June 9. The troops under the command of the Hereditary Prince have been encamped ſince the 1ſt inſtant at Schapdetten: A detachment of four ſquadrons, and ſix battalions of Heſſian grenadiers, form a ſmall ſeparate camp at Appelhulſen. The light troops are poſted at Coesfeld, Dulmen, and Geſcher. The Hereditary Prince's head-quarters are ſtill at Nottelen; but the Field Officers are at Schapdetten.

Hanover, June 12. We have advice from Einbeck, that on the 3d inſt. the Viſcount de Belſunce came out again from Gottingen, at the head of a large detachment, and marched towards Uſlar, with a deſign to ſieze upon that place; but on his receiving intelligence, that General Luckner was coming to meet him, with part of the troops under his command, and had already advanced as far as Mohringen, he immediately dropt his deſign, and turned back to Gottingen.

Weſel, June 13. The Prince de Soubiſe was here on the 10th. That day, all the cavalry, which were formerly cantoned on the other ſide of the Rhine, came and occupied a camp under our walls, out of which the foot had marched to take poſt a league farther off.

On the 11th the column that had been at Duſſeldorp took its route towards the country of La Marck.

This day (the 13th) all the houſhold troops, the fineſt eye ever beheld, all the cavalry, and all the infantry that were before the town, began their march early in the morning. The diviſion which was encamped at Rees, under the Marquis de Voyer, joined this column, and made its van.

M. de Chevert heads the column that came from Duſſeldorp. That which hath juſt now left us is commanded by the Marſhal Prince de Soubiſe in perſon.

P. S. It is juſt now reported, that the Hereditary Prince is advancing, with a numerous force, againſt the column left by M. de Chevert.

Hague, June 16. According to all the advices received from Weſtphalia, they expected every moment to hear of a bloody battle between the Allied troops commanded by the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, and the French under Marſhal de Soubiſe.

Paris, June 8. We do not hear that M. Stanley, the Miniſter from England, has yet had any conference with our Miniſtry upon the buſineſs which he came about. Perhaps he waits to know what M. de Buſſy has done at London, in order to regulate his conduct thereupon. We are perſuaded that the Engliſh will come to no determination till the fate of Belleiſle be decided, and that their view in making this new conqueſt, is to enable them to ſecure their old ones, particularly thoſe in Canada; an object which may probably prove the ſtumbling-block of our negociations.

Vienna, June 3. The advanced guards of the army of the Empire range even to the gates of Leipſick, from whence the Pruſſians are removing their ſick and their magazines. The Imperial troops of Ruſſia are arrived in three diviſions at Poſen.

Schweidnitz, June 4. Yeſterday the King of Pruſſia received an account that a large body of Ruſſians was advancing towards this country, and that the reſt of that army was in motion; but this gives us no uneaſineſs, as we have a large chain of troops formed to ſtop their progreſs.

Gottingen, June 3. The French have juſt given us to underſtand, that they ſhall call upon us monthly for a pretty large ſum in ſpecie, and which muſt be punctually delivered, under expreſs pain of military execution.

Paderborn, June 10. All our accounts agree, that the enemies are in motion on all ſides, ſo that the campaign will open in a few days. The French are determined, if poſſible, to get poſſeſſion of Hanover; but they will find, notwithſtanding their ſuperiority, a vaſt deal of bloody work to go through before they carry their point; as all our men are in high ſpirits, and we are every where in readineſs to receive them.

LONDON,

June 20. His Majeſty's ſhip Argo, Richard King, Eſq; commander, took on the 11th inſt. in the North Sea, and has brought her to the Nore, the Marſhal Duc de Biron privateer ſnow, of 15 ſix pounders, pierced for 20 carriage guns, and 150 men, but had only 120 men. She ſailed from St. Maloes the 17th of April laſt, had taken 10 veſſels, and had 7 ranſomers on board for 4605l. This is the ſame ſhip that engaged ſome time ago the Duke of Tuſcany, Capt. Malone, ſeven Glaſſes, off Cape Clear, on the coaſt of Ireland.

The ranſomers for the following ſhips were on board the Marſhal Duc de Biron privateer, viz. the Alexander, Crawford, from Virginia to Glaſgow; the Boyle, Carley, from Youghall to Newfoundland; the Polly, Gammel, from Virginia to Glaſgow; the Friendſhip, Cregg, from Newry to Irwin; the Kennington, Simpſon, from Harwich to Norway; and the Neptune, Hubert, from Lynn to Elſineur.

We hear from Malaga, that the Thunderer man of war, Capt. Proby, had put in there, who, a few Days before, had chaſed the Roſan, a French man of war of 64 guns, into Carberona; and that the Dunkirk man of war had chaſed another French man of war, the St. Vincent, of 64 guns; that they both eſcaped by being near in ſhore before they were diſcovered.

Capt. Riddle, in the Lion, arrived at Genoa, fell in with three French men of war off Liſbon, who came near enough to fire at him; but he had the good luck to get clear of them, and three days afterwards, off Cadiz, fell in with three others, who endeavoured to cut him off from the Streights mouth, and chaſed him within two miles of Cadiz; but having a ſtrong gale, and the wind fair, he puſhed for the Streights, and got through that night. Two days after, he was chaſed by a large ſhip, which proved to be the Arnaux; ſhe bore down, till near enough to diſcover each other's force, and then wore and run for it. The next day he fell in with and took a veſſel, bound from Marſeilles to-------, which he has carried into Genoa. The Gramont man of war, as being in ſight, claims a ſhare. The Lion had 14 days paſſage from Plymouth, and 18 from the Downs.

Extract of a Letter from Capt. Barnard, of the Ship Speedwell, dated Dover, June 16.

"On the 26th of April I left Virginia, and on May the 13th had the misfortune to fall in with a large privateer belonging to St. Maloes, of 24 guns, and 240 men, who took me about half paſt nine at night, and kept me until eight o'clock the next morning, then ranſomed me for 3000l. ſterling. I fear a great many of the ſhips from Virginia will ſhare the ſame fate, for there are ſeveral privateers cruizing off the Banks of Newfoundland."

Four ſhips of the line, with ſome tranſports, are ordered to be got ready to ſail for the Mediterranean; and it is ſaid the new Governor of Gibraltar will embark on board the Commodore's ſhip.

A number of workmen, with all things neceſſary, are ordered to ſail for Belleiſle, to repair the fortifications; and they are to be allowed extra pay.

The Hill-houſe at Chatham is getting ready to receive General Kingſley, who is to command the forces that are to encamp at Brumpton.

According to private letters from Stockholm, we may expect ſomething very extraordinary at the cloſe of the Diet, as the Swediſh Nation in general ſeem to be convinced that a ſteady attention to their own intereſts, and the cultivation of the arts of peace, are the only probable methods of recovering the figure they formerly made among the powers of Europe, and as their application to theſe will not either require the aſſiſtance, or excite the jealouſy of their neighbours.

They write from Warſaw, that the King and his Miniſters ſeem to be intent upon repairing the misfortunes the preſent war has brought upon his Poliſh Majeſty's family, by procuring eſtabliſhments for the younger Princes; and it is ſaid ſuch a plan has been formed for this purpoſe, as will not only ſatisfy them, but contribute likewiſe to facilitate a general peace.

They continue to work every day in the Yard at Woolwich, Sundays not excepted.

Yeſterday there was a very hot preſs below bridge, when many ſailors were taken and put on board the tender at the Tower.

Two or three regiments of foot are ſoon to embark to relieve the garriſon of Guadaloupe.

It is ſaid the number of troops, which are to be left on the Iſland of Belleiſle, are to be 5000 men, with a ſtrong ſquadron of men of war, to prevent any attempts that the French may make for the recovery of the ſaid iſland.

His Majeſty's ſhip Intrepid, juſt returned from a cruiſe to Plymouth, ſpoke with a Dutch Eaſt-India ſhip under jury maſts (half of whoſe cargo had been thrown overboard to ſave the remainder, which is greatly damaged) about 70 leagues from the Land's End, that had left the Cape near three months, where advice was received of Pondicherry being taken.

Extract of a Letter from Spain.

"The Bayonners have lately made ſeveral prizes, moſtly outward bound Newfoundlanders.---The Providence of London, bound to New-York, is ſent into Rivades in Galicia, by the Ruby privateer of Bayonne; the Harlequin of Bourdeaux has taken the Roſe, Tardif, tranſport, from Belleiſle to Guernſey, and a veſſel from Philadelphia with lumber."

Ranſomers are carried into Dunkirk by the Wolf privateer, Capt. Duhamel, for the following veſſels, viz. the Elizabeth and Chriſtian, Anderſon, from London to Arch-Angel, for 380 guineas; the St. Stephen, Greyſon, from London to Arch-Angel, for 500 guineas; the George and Mary, Hubbard, from Hamburgh to Lynn, for 200 guineas; the Jane ſloop, Wood, of and from Aberdeen to London, for 140 guineas; and the True Friendſhip, Foſter, of Stockton, for 120 guineas.

They write from Malta, that they had received advice from the French Conſul at Conſtantinople, that the fleet fitting out there will conſiſt of 18 capital ſhips of war, 20 frigates, xebecs, cruiſers, &c. and is to be commanded in chief by Heſſen Dey, and the famous Pacha of Rhodes is to command under him; and that this fleet will certainly put to ſea immediately after the Turks grand feaſt of Ramadan is over.

The Dutch having laid the Portugueſe Conſul in Holland under ſome reſtrictions, the King of Portugal has forbid the Dutch Conſul at Liſbon to act in that character.

BOSTON, Auguſt 17.

Saturday laſt Captain Cole arrived at Marblehead in 31 Days from Corunna, in Spain, by whom we learn, That the King George Privateer of 32 Guns, belonging to Briſtol, had taken and carried into Caminha, on the Coaſt of Portugal, a large French outward bound Eaſt Indiaman, valued at £60,000 Sterling. The Engagement laſted 6 Hours, in which Time the French had 60 Men killed and wounded, and the Engliſh 10 killed, and 20 wounded; She was taken about 20 Leagues to the Weſtward of Cape Finiſterre, and they had but juſt Time to take the Priſoners on board the Privateer, when her Maſts fell over her Sides; and both Privateer and Prize went in under Jury Maſts.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 24.

Between three and four o'Clock laſt Friday Morning, a Fire broke out in the Houſe of Mr. Chriſtopher Smith, in French Church Street, in this City, which intirely conſumed the ſame, and the Houſes of Mr. Fewter, and Dr. Van Dyke, adjoining thereto, the Fire having got to a very great Head before it was diſcovered, notwithſtanding the City Watch was not 200 Yards diſtant from the Place where it began.

The Loſs of Mr. Smith is vaſtly great, for beſides near 100 Pieces of Sail Duck, little or nothing of his Houſhold Furniture, Plate, or the Wearing Apparel of his Family, is ſaved.

Mr. Fewter has loſt conſiderably, and tho' good Part of his Furniture was ſaved, we hear ſeveral Pieces of Plate are miſſing, ſuppoſed to have been carried off by ſome ſuch Villains as were detected in carrying off a Bag of Dollars out of the Ruins of Mr. Smith's Houſe the ſame Morning.

Doctor Van Dyke's Loſs is moſtly that of his Houſe, and being obliged to pack up and carry off his Goods in great Confuſion.

And on Friday, between Twelve and One, another Fire broke out in the Houſe of Mr. Peter Low, Baker, in Broad-ſtreet, which was ſoon extinguiſhed, and was ſuppoſed to have had its Riſe from ſome Sparks of the Fire that happened in the Morning, as the Wind was that Way.

Thurſday laſt Captain Bryſon arrived here from Amſterdam, but laſt from Spithead. On the 10th Inſtant, in Lat. 39, 3, Lon. 67, 20, he ſpoke with Capt. Boyes, in a Ship from the Orkneys, for Philadelphia.

The Hope, Jacobſon, for this Port, lay at Spithead the 24th of June, waiting for Convoy.

Extract of a Letter from Oſwego, dated July 21.

"On Friday laſt Sir William Johnſon arrived here in good Health, and this Day, about Four in the Afternoon, he embarked on board the Anſon Schooner, for Niagara; as did alſo Colonel Eyre, Chief Engineer. Sir William, I am informed, is taking a Tour quite round from Niagara to Fort Detroit, and round by Pittſburgh, we ſuppoſe, to quiet the Indians, who ſeem uneaſy, by the Perſuaſion of the French, that they, the Indians, will all be either enſlaved or cut off, if they ſuffer us to go on and make ſuch large Conqueſts in their Country.-------The greateſt Part of Gage's Light Infantry, which arrived here laſt Week, with Major Gladwin, embarked this Morning by Sun-riſe on board Battoes for Niagara; the Major went on board the Anſon. A Party of Men are to follow Sir William to Detroit. Beſides the Anſon, we have another Schooner and a Sloop belonging to this Garriſon."

Part of a Letter from Antigua.

"------This Quarter of the World affords us few Tranſactions, although for ſome Months we have had great Expectations of its being the Scene of buſy Action; but ſuch Thoughts are now vaniſhed, for this Seaſon at leaſt, and the Enemy will probably keep Poſſeſſion of their Iſlands another Year. One of our Ships of War has been to viſit the different Iſlands, while the reſt of the Squadron have little to do.---We wiſh the Armament was employed on ſome Attack, equal to its Importance, and the Expence of ſupporting it here. The French have had two Line of Battle Ships in theſe Seas, but have had the good Luck to eſcape us all. They continued a great Time at Granada, and then went to St. Domingo. The Temple of 70 Guns, and Arundel of 20, chaſed them; but the Enemy was not in a Humour to be ſpoke with, which might be lucky for our Ships, as they were of ſo inferior a Force. Monſieur La Touche, Governor of Martinico, has lately received 1200 Troops."

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 27.

Captain Bachop, from Londonderry, is arrived here. On his Paſſage, in Lat. 42, Long. 36, he was taken by a French 64 Gun Ship from Hiſpaniola, the Captain of which took out all the Goods that were ſhipped at Liverpool and Londonderry, and ranſomed the Ship for 880 Guineas. He left Londonderry the 25th of June, in Company with Captain Johnſton, alſo for this Place.
